MEMPHIS IS EXCITED

THE SOUTHERN CITY GAILY DECORATED IN HONOR OF THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT.

WATERWAYS CONVENTION SESSION

Chief Executive After Making Address Before It This Afternoon Will Start Out on Hunt for Big Game.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 4.—Thousands of citizens and visitors thronged the streets of Memphis today to do honor to President Roosevelt and the many other distinguished men who are here attending the second annual convention of the lakes-to-the-gulf waterways advocates, who met at the Auditorium rink this morning.

Never before in the history of Memphis has such a lavish display of flags and bunting been in evidence. All the buildings on the principal streets are a mass of color and pictures of the president are displayed throughout the city.

The day opened with a downpour of rain, which showed no evidence of abatement as the morning advanced. President Roosevelt was scheduled to arrive by steamboat from Cairo at 1 o'clock, but a message from Osceola, Ark., at 9:30 o'clock said that the steamer Mississippi, on which he is, passed there one hour behind the schedule.

Preparations on an elaborate scale have been made for the entertainment of the president and party, who will be taken in charge at the wharf by a reception committee and driven through the principal business and residence thoroughfares to the Auditorium rink, where the president will address the delegates to the waterways convention. Returning, the president and his immediate party will board a special train and start for his proposed hunt in Louisiana.

Among the delegates to the convention are the governors of sixteen states, many United States senators and representatives, noted engineers and prominent men from all sections of the territory traversed by the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

Before Memphis was reached the president invited Governor Frantz, of Oklahoma, and Curry, of New Mexico, to board his steamer. "I want the governor of the territory that has become a state and the governor of the territory that is about to become a state to ride with me," the president said.

He arrived at Memphis at 12.50 and landed amid the screeching of whistles and cheers of thousands of persons.

DID LAD BURN HIMSELF?

THIS IS THE VERDICT RETURNED BY THE CORONER AND HIS JURY.

MOTHER INVENTED TRAMP STORY

Belief Is Latter Was Away From Home During Which Time the Children Played With Matches in House.

Burlington, Ia., Oct. 4.—It is now believed that Mrs. Hathaway's story of a tramp burning her boy to death because she would not give him food at her home near Oquawka, Ill., is untrue.

It is stated that Mr. Hathaway came home from Oquawka at about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon and found his little boy burned to a crisp and dying.

His wife told him the story of the tramp, but an investigation on the part of the sheriff and the coroner appears to give the impression that the death of the boy was accidental.

It is now believed that Mrs. Hathaway left her children alone on the premises and went to a distant neighbor and that during her absence the little ones secured matches and the boy set fire to his own clothing.

Mrs. Hathaway told conflicting stories and did not show signs of physical injury about the head and body. The woman is now in a half-demented condition.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the boy came to his death accidentally.

Excitement ran high Wednesday evening, and men searched all night for the alleged perpetrator of the crime. About 9 o'clock a man named Williams was taken from a Burlington freight train. He appeared to answer the woman's description of the tramp. He was held for a while, but he was afterward released.

While the authorities are carefully investigating the tragedy, the impression is growing that the little fellow was his own executioner.

MAJOR J. M. TURLEY INJURED

Three of the Federal Court Bailiff's Ribs Broken in a Fall.

While he was leaving a street car Major J. M. Turley, of 1011 Cherry street, in Kansas City, bailiff for the United States district courts in the federal building, fell at Tenth and Cherry streets, Wednesday night and three ribs on his right side were broken.

Major Turley is 60 years old and was for many years a resident of Sedalia. He was married here, his wife being Miss Lina Mathews, of Beaman.

Major Turley served during the civil war in the regiment of Col. John F. Philips, and is now bailiff in Judge Philips' court.

EXPELLED FROM GERMANY

Three Mormons Run Out of Country for Spreading Faith.

Dresden, Saxony, Oct. 4.—Three American Mormons have been expelled from Germany as a result of their persisting, despite final warnings prohibiting them from spreading their propaganda, to conduct river baptisms and making converts. They were taken under guard to the frontier.

AFTER THE ENCAMPMENT

COLUMBIA ANOTHER CITY THAT ENTERED THE RACE YESTERDAY.

MAY POSSIBLY BE STILL OTHERS

Adjutant General De Armond Will Select it, After Which it Will Have to Meet With Approval of Governor.

If the efforts of Wiliam Hirth, J. A. Hudson and Capt. Joseph Frazier, began this morning, are successful, Columbia will secure the permanent state encampment of the Missouri National Guard for which congress some time back appropriated $75,000, says Thursday's Columbia Herald.

In a conversation this morning with Adjutant General Jas. A. DeArmond at Jefferson City the latter requested Mr. Hudson over the phone to consult with Capt. Frazier and ascertain what facilities Columbia can offer for encampment and rifle range purposes. The two began this morning investigation of different tracts of land in this vicinity.

A plain about 1,000 yards square is necessary. At one end of it must be a gihh bluff against which the targets used in rifle practice can be placed. This is absolutely essential, as the absence of such a barrier would endanger life in the vicinity during rifle practice. The soil must also be rich. Mr. Hudson and Captain Frazier are looking for such a place. If it can be found and the citizens of Columbia join in the effort, Columbia's chances to secure the encampment grounds with its annual emoluments are as good or better than Jefferson City, Sedalia, Nevada and St. Joseph, the other cities in Missouri that are after the prize. The topography around Columbia is exceptionally suitable for encampment and rifle range purposes, there being a number of sites that would answer the requirements.

Columbia with the largest military school in the west and being the seat of a state institution is peculiarly suitable for the encampment site. Mr. Hirth noted the passage of the bill in congress and since then has been in correspondence with General De Armond and those who have the matter in charge. Today, after the telephone message from the Adjutant General, the first definite step was taken in the matter.

The site must first be approved by the governor, after Ajdutant General DeArmond and his staff select it, and must then meet with the approval of the war department at Washington before the government will make the purchase.

BROTHERS ARE ARRESTED

Charged With Felonious Assault on Asbury Goodknight.

Henry and W. E. Brennecke, well known farmers southeast of town, were arrested this morning by Deputy Constable Phalings, charged with assault with intent to kill Asbury Goodknight, also of that neighborhood. Each furnished a $300 bond for hearing in Judge Leaming's court at 10 a. m. next Monday. C. C. Kelly and W. W. Blain represent the defendants.

According to persons familiar with the relations of Goodknight and the Brenneckes, they have been at outs for a number of years, the result of a statement alleged to have been made by Goodknight against the deceased father of the Brennecke boys.

Last Wednesday, it is stated, the Brenneckes went out to the border of a certain tract of their land, when they were assaulted by Goodknight, who struck Henry in the face, fracturing his nose. As a result Henry Brennecke is now confined at Maywood hospital, under the care of Dr. S. G. Kelly.

After the fight was over Goodknight came to town and complained to Prosecuting Attorney Dow, who filed information against the Brennecke boys.

Circuit Clerk C. W. Daugherty is not superstitious. He said today: "Wife and I left Sedalia on Friday, September 13, on our eastern trip, and pulled out of St. Louis on track 23, but we got home safely without so much as a trivial mishap."

Sparring Match Thursday Night.

"Billy" Roach, the machinist-pugilist, and Johnny Regan, will indulge in a sparring match in this city Thursday night, and later on the former pugilist leaves for Pueblo, Colo., where he is to fight "Mugsy" Shoales.

Had Cattle on the Market.

EATING IS TO COST MORE

NEW YORK DEALERS PLANNING TO BOOST PRICES 20 PER CENT.

ARE TO BE IN EFFECT NEXT MONTH

The Pure Food Law Is to Be Made the Basis for Advancing the Cost of Living—Isn't That Gratifying News?

New York, Oct. 4—Laying all blame for their action upon the pure food law, dealers in all foodstuffs announce that they will raise the price 20 per cent this fall.

The Meat trust has already forced butcher bills up that much higher, and the dealers in vegetables say that if it's going to be impossible to use cheap adulterants and flavorings any more they must get more money for the better grades they are forced to sell.

By way of samples, milk is bringing more for the farmer and will bring more from the user; best grades of butter are costing 32 cents at the churn; dried and canned fruits, especially corn and tomatoes and prunes, will all go up from 20 to 40 per cent.

The new prices are expected to begin to pinch the joyous provider about the middle of next month.

SLASHED WITH A KNIFE

George Fryer, City Marshal at Windsor, the Victim.

George Fryer, marshal of Windsor, while attempting to remove John Tanner, weighman at the coal mines four and one-half miles west of Windsor, to the latter's room at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was seriously cut about the throat with a pocket-knife in the hands of Tanner. The wound, though serious, is not thought to be dangerous.

Tanner was intoxicated and created a disturbance. The marshal started to take him to him room, when Tanner objected. He stumbled and fell, and while lying on the ground secured his pocket knife. He then arose and began slashing. The jugular vein in Mr. Fryer's neck was missed by hardly an inch. Tanner escaped.

Was Varner Murdered?

Murder is now thought to have been the cause of the death of Thos. C. Varner, a Sedalian, whose dead body was found near Jefferson City last week. At the place where the body was discovered, it is stated, there are no rocks that would be likely to cause a hole such as the one in Varner's head, hence the belief of murder.

THE CITY BASEBALL MAD

ALL OF DETROIT CONFIDENT THAT THE PENNANT IS THEIRS.

POLICE HAVE TO MOVE CROWDS

If Any Player Injures His Fingers the Fans Weep—Sporting Extras Snapped Up Miles From the City's Center.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—The pennant or bust, is the epitome of the baseball feeling in Detroit.

The city is baseball mad. On the streets, in the street cars, in the homes everywhere, baseball and the Tigers are the subject of discussion. Coal is going up 50 cents a ton the first of next month, the price of bread went up a cent yesterday, milk went up a cent a quart only a week ago, and the size of a piece of pie and cake has been cut down in lieu of a raise of price. Who cares Nobody.

The whole state of Michigan, even to the water tanks, is howling for the Tigers. The newspapers are besieged with long distance calls from towns in the Northern Peninsula each night, and the eternal question is, "Did the Tigers win?"

Score boards decorate the fronts of many of the big down town stores, and hundreds of people congregate around them every afternoon. The bugs are happy when the Tigers are winning, and hopeful when they are behind. The cafes that have ticker service are jammed to the doors, with overflow meetings on the sidewalk. Special policemen have to keep the walks cleared. Saloons on the outskirts of the city that have no ticker telephone for the score.

Baseball mad does not express it. The fans are insane. Staid business men, doctors, lawyers, capitalists and society women by the hundreds are among the thousands that attend the games and clamor nightly for scores. So great is the clamor to know the result of the game when the Tigers are away that the newspapers have ceased giving out the score over the telephone. Twenty girls on each newspaper couldn't satisfy the demand for baseball news.

It is almost impossible to get a cafe by telephone where the returns are being received over the wire. If Ty Cobb hurts his finger the fans are ready to weep. If he smahes out a screaming three-bagger the fans raise a shout of joy. Time was, early in the season that the fans who yelled out in a cafe when the Tigers came across with a winning run would be looked at in mild astonishment. Now everybody screams, exults, gloats, and nobody cares. Sporting extras that never sold before two blocks from the city hall are snapped up ten miles from the center of the city.

Each night hundreds line up where the extras are deposited and await their turn to buy a paper. The town is wild, insane, mad, and no one cares if the whole country knows it. Getting down to the fans' calmer mood, which is only when they are asleep, the Tiger rooters are confident the team is going to win out and beat the cubs for the world's campionship. Already hundreds of inquiries are made for seats.

COSTS A MISSOURIAN $5

CUPID'S AGENT FORGIVEN, HOWEVER, WHEN HE WEDS REAL AFFINITY.

A RANCHMAN FROM DEARBORN, MO

Went Up Against the "Searchlight Affinity Club," With a Woman in Charge of Office in Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—"Ef it hadn't a been fer that there 'cupid agent' I wouldn't a' never met this yer gal from Texas. She maybe did swindle men out'er $5, but I ain't carin' none particular. I gets the gal."

That is the rough forgiveness which is offered Miss Marion Gray, of Elgin, Ill., the so-called "cupid's agent" and "beacon light for affinities." The federal grand jury is investigating her "Searchlight Affinity Club," looking toward indicting her for a misuse of the mails.

The foregoing statement was from one of the "affinities" who joined the club—Wiliam Grable, 55 years old, ranchman of Dearborn, Mo.

Through the organization he found his affinity, Miss Ida Goforth, 35 years old, of Corsicana, Tex. He's happy, although he was separated from his $5 when Miss Gray sent him a picture of an actress, running mostly to marcel waves, puffs and low-cut gowns. It all came out right. Grable Grable finally got a picture of the real Miss Goforth, a woman of corkscrew curls, rotund figure and jolly face. He is satisfied.

Grable is a real Missourian and he was subpoenaed to come to Chicago to testify against Miss Gray. Yesterday he was found lounging about the corrodors of the federal building willing to be called. "Is she anything like the picture you got?" Grable's lean sides quivered with silent laughter. He pulled his long nose and winked his twinkling right eye.

"Thet is where I war swindled," he answered.

"Ida ain't a counterpart of that photygraph none; but, lemme tell yer, she is just the so't fer me. I hates to se pawcel of bones erbout my house and Ida's plump considerable."

HAS KILLED FOURTEEN MEN

Grewsome Confession Made by Man on Trial for Murder.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 4.—D. D. Edwards, on trial for the murder of Sam Brooks, a negro, made a startling statement under cross-examination yesterday.

He was asked by the attorney general if he had killed any one previcus to the killing of Brooks. Edwards admitted that he had killed a man in Kentucky.

"Is that all?" asked the attorney general.

"Well," said Edwards, "I have shot and probably killed fourteen men in my time."

He said that a majority of the killings occurred in the Kentucky mountains and during labor strikes in Chicago.

Edwards is a Kentucky feudist.

SHIP TAKEN OFF ROCKS

THE LAST OF THE CREW OF LEON XIII. WAS RESCUED LAST NIGHT.

SINCE THURSDAY WITHOUT FOOD

Fishermen Burned Fires on Shore to Keep Up Courage of Crew—Men Came Ashore on Improvised Rafts.

Kilrush, Ireland, Oct. 4.—The last batch of the crew of the Leon XIII were brought safely ashore at a late hour last evening.

They included the captain, who suffered with a broken leg as a result of being felled by a heavy sea soon after the vessel struck. The entire crew have thus been saved. They had nothing to eat since Tuesday morning, as it was impossible for them to reach the provisions on board.

Fishermen from the neighboring village burned fires at different points on the shore during the night in order to tell the unfortunate men that the efforts to rescue them were not being relaxed. The men came ashore at different times in small parties, some in boats that went out from the land and others on rafts they had knocked together themselves.

The ship went on the rocks near Seafield. Her sails were blown into ribbons, mountainous seas broke over the vessel, and her crew of twenty-five men, huddled in the bow, could get no shelter from the waves. Although the Leon XIII was only about 250 yards from the mainland, a rocky barrier prevented the life boats from getting to her.

The Leon XIII arrived at Queenstown Sept. 26 from Portland, Ore., and fro mthere sailed northward.

WAR TALK STIRS MANILA

The Philippines Hear of Secret Preparations at Home.

Manila, Oct. 4.—The people of Manila were deeply agitated yesterday by the publication of a dispatch from the Hongkong News agency that a great sensation had been created in the United States by the declaration of the New York Sun that the real object of the projected cruise of the battleships and cruisers to the Pacific is war with Japan, and that Secretary Taft's visit is really designed to cover naval preparations.

LOOKS BAD DOWN IN CUBA.

Instead of being near at hand, the termination of American occupation of Cuba appears at this time, when it had been previously hoped it would end, to be further off than ever. General conditions throughout the island do not seem to have improved greatly since we took possession. The preservation of order and the supremacy of the law are fully as difficult to maintain as before we took hold of the republic. Of course, the power and resources of this government go a long way toward compelling the respect of the natives and forcing good behavior. But even with the advantage of this prestige Governor Magoon has his hands full in keeping the "lid" on and preventing the quarreling factions of the island from getting out their matchets and going after each other. Incipient outbreaks are occurring almost constantly in the different provinces. Jealous political leaders are stirring up trouble and every now and then comes the information that an uprising on a large scale has barely been suppressed through timely discovery of the conspiracy.

The island is full of outlaws and bandits who prey upon those peaceably inclined, and property and life, especially in the remote localities, can not be regarded as safe from one day to another. The rurales have all they can do to preserve a semblance of order throughout their jurisdictions, and without their presence it is certain that demonstrations and probably fighting and devastation would speedily make their appearance.

What would happen under these circumstances if the United States, with its powerful army and a great navy at its back, should withdraw from Cuba is easy to imagine. The insistence of political leaders for recognition and the widespread clamor for jobs alone, if other conditions were favorable, make it practically certain that the old time warfare for control of the government would be resumed as soon as the way was clear.

How much of this unsettled state of the island and its smoldering fires is due to the intrigues of commercial interests in Havana and scattered points, who wish to force us to remain in Cuba indefinitely or annex the island is a serious question for this government. Public sentiment, we think, is against further extenson of our colonial system. We do not believe the people want to take Cuba. We think they are satisfied with the experience they have received in "civilizing" the Philippines, and do not wish to be burdened with a load such as Cuba's rehabilitation would entail. But unless steps are taken to head off the now fully developed movement for annexation, this step will in time become inevitable.

RESTORING FORESTS.

Now that the forests of this country are disappearing, and it is predicted that they will nearly all be gone in ten years, we are beginning to talk about the necessity of forestry. In Japan, which has distanced us in some respects, as we have to grudgingly admit, the first school of forestry was started twenty years ago. Now Japan has an organization embracing sixty-two schools for the training of students and the directing of popular attention to the science and practice of forestry. The forests proper belong to the imperial domain and are looked after by the department of agriculture. The forest area of Japan, surprising as the figures may be to some, is about 60,000,000 acres, and it is about equally divided between the imperial government and miscellaneous holdings.

Japan does not export much lumber, the amount for the ten years ended 1901—the latest available—was valued at $25,000,000. Japan, in the main, has to contend with greater disadvantages than the United States, as land is much more valuable. In that country forestation finds its scope mainly on the rugged slopes of the mountain ranges.

The whole world is learning that a forest is much more quickly felled than grown, and it is looking about for substitutes for the timber that has been wasted.

Theodore Stark Wilkinson, one of the three candidates in the fight for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Louisiana, traces his ancestry back to old Revolutionary stock, his progenitors on both his father's and his mother's side having played prominent parts in the great fight for freedom. On his father's side his great-gandfather was General James Wilkinson, who, at the age of only 20 years wrote the terms of the surrender of General Burgoyne to General Gates at Saratoga, General Wilkinson at the time being on the latter's staff.

Contracts for five torpedo boat destroyers awarded. The influence of the peace conference goes steadily on.

If Cleveland, O., charges Tom Johnson with the loss of the baseball pennant it will be all over with him in the race for the mayoralty.

As if the negroes were not having hard enough time of it, on account of racial prejudices, one of them has just invented a piano that whistles.

When the mechanical cotton picker gets to work it will be hard for the southern negro to make a living between the going out of the watermelon and the coming in of the blackberry.

Judging from the disclosures made in the government's suit against the Standard Oil company, once a man got on the inside of that concern, all he had to do was to sit tight and have them hand him the money.

There is no doubt now that Japan will be for Taft for president. But will this really help his candidacy in America?

Mae Wood has sued Senator Platt for divorce. Will he fight this case or let it go by default?

In due season Root will be heard of in Mexico, too.

ASK MAYOR TO WITHDRAW

Cincinnati Citizens Favor an Independent Candidate.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—At an informal meeting of voters, chiefly prominent democrats, yesterday afternoon, a committee was appointed with instructions to present to Mayor Dempsey a resolution adopted by the meeting requesting that he withdraw from the democratic ticket in the interest of an independent ticket.

This action followed the announcement that nearly half of the democratic nominees had decided to withdraw from the ticket.

Mayor Dempsey very briefly and emphatically notified the committee that under no circumstances would he withdraw from the ticket, nor would he request any other nominee to do so.

DECLARE FOR HADLEY

Third Declaration Under New Law Arrives

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 4.— The third declaration, this one coming from St. Joseph, nominating Attorney General Hadley as their candidate for governor, reached the office of the secretary of state yesterday afternoon. It contains nearly 200 names attached to a statement attesting the signers to support Mr. Hadley for the governorship. It was sent in by the Roosevelt-McKinley club of St. Joseph, with the statement that more names are coming.

It would seem that the movement set on foot by the Nodaway county republicans, who sent in the first declaration, is spreading over the state, as many inquiries have been received by Secretary of State Swanger as to the form in which these petitions or statements must be prepared to make them conform to the requirements of the new primary law, and each of these inquiries have been coupled with the statement that it is the intention to send a Hadley-for-governor declaration.

But We Haven't Wood to Burn.

Contrary to a widespread belief that hard woods give more heat in burning than soft varieties, the scientists at Washington are contending that the greatest heating power is possessed by the wood of the linden tree, which is very soft. Fir stands next to linden, and almost equal to it. Then comes pine, hardly inferior to fir and linden, while hard oak possesses eight per cent. less heating capacity than linden, and red beech ten per cent. less.

In advertising clothes for fall we will not use exaggerated values or make impossible claims, but we will say that Capp's Fine Clothing is far better than anything offered for the price. FOR A DRY WASHINGTON

CONGRESSMAN WANTS PROHIBITION IN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

SENTIMENT IS STILL SPREADING

Representative Craig, of the Fourth Alabama District, Points to Results in Texas and Also Kentucky.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Prohibition in the District of Columbia is the particular object to which will be devoted the energies and oratory of Representative William B. Craig, of the Fourth Alabama district, in the next session of congress.

From friends of Mr. Craig, who are now in Washington, it was learned that the new congressman will introduce a bill in the house to prohibit the manufacture or sale of intoxicating beverages in the District.

The new representative's belief is that prohibition has grown to such an immense extent throughout the country in the last few years, and especially during the last summer, as to insure a serious hearing of his proposition by members of congress.

He points to the growth of the temperance sentiment in such states as Kentucky, hitherto famous for its drinking bouts.

THE REAL CAUSE.

The Ancient Scalp-Fever Theory Exploded.

At one time dandruff was attributed to the result of a feverish condition of the scalp, which threw off the dried cuticle in scales.

Professor Unna, Hamburg, Germany, noted authority on skin diseases, explodes this theory and says that dandruff is a germ disease.

This germ is really responsible for the dandruff and for so many bald heads. It can be cured of it is gone about in the right way. The right way, of course, and the only way, is to kill the germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this, and permits the hair to grow luxuriantly, just as nature intended it should.

MAPPING THE WHOLE COUNTRY.

Great Work Inaugurated by the National Government.

More progress than ever will be made this year on the great map of the country which shows all the surface forms of the land, every hamlet and every house excepting where they stand closely together in towns and cities. New sheets will be made this season in 31 states and four territories. The summer field work is all outlined excepting in New York and Pennsylvania. Survey parties are in the field and the work is being vigorously pushed.

No country has ever made such rapid progress with its topographic surveys, area for area, as the United States. Only a little more than a third of our territory is yet surveyed for the purposes of the big map, but this is merely because our land surface, including Alaska, is nearly as large as the whole of Europe. To make as good a map of our domain as that which we can now buy of nearly the whole of Europe we shall have to do nearly as much surveying as all the European powers have done together. Only four of our states—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey—have so far been completely mapped, but the maps of several other states will soon be finished.

Dreaming.

I care not how worldly you may be; there are times when all distinctions seem like dust; and when at the graves of the great, you dream of a coming country where your proudest hopes shall be dimmed forever. Married or unmarried, young or old, poet or worker, you are still a dreamer, and will one time feel and know that your life is but a dream.—Ike Marvel.

DESTROYED THE CHECKS

STARTLING DISCLOSURE IN NEW YORK STREET RAILWAY MERGER.

THE SUM OF $43,878 INVOLVED

Did Not Want It Known to Whom Money Was Paid, According to the Testimony of Mr. Lemuel Ely Quigg.

New York, Oct. 4.—That he deliberately destroyed checks for $43,878 so that he would not be compelled to say to whom the money represented by them was paid was admitted by Lemuel Ely Quigg at the hearing on the street railway merger matters before the public utilities commission yesterday.

"My memory is faulty. I should not like to attempt it," he replied, when Attorney Ivens, who is conducting the investigation, asked him if he could tell to whom the checks were drawn.

Secretary D. C. Moorehead, of the Metropolitan company, stated on the stand that he had been unable to locate the checks charged to the "special construction" account, and that he was certain they must have been destroyed.

100 COUNTIES ARE DRY

McLean County Latest to Go—Nineteen "Wet."

Considerate.

"Brethren," said Rev. Mr. Goodman, bringing his sermon to a close when scarcely half way through it, "it is too hot this morning for me to preach and for you to listen. We will sing 'From Greenland's Icy Mountains,' omitting all but the first stanza, and be dismissed."

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. In August I purchased a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that I "had 'em"—yes—a wiggling, squirming mass left me. Judge our doctor's surprise when I showed him thirty feet, and in another day the remainder (about the same length) of a tapeworm that had been sapping my vitality for years. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I trust this testimonial will appeal to other sufferers."

SHE IS FAR FROM BROKE

REFERENCE IS HAD TO LILLIAN RUSSELL, WHO HAS DELIGHTED THOUSANDS.

IS PRETTY WELL FIXED, THANK YOU

Says She Doesn't Have to Sell Her Art Treasures but Wants to Just the Same—Tells How She Bet on Races.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—"I suppose if I should tell you that I am penniless as a result of playing the races it would make a fine story, but I'm not going to tell you anything of the sort."

This was the manner in which Lillian Russell, shortly after her arrival in Cincinnati yesterday afternoon, started an interview in which she denied the report that the bookies at Saratoga succeeded in getting all her money, and that she was obliged to sell her art treasures to offset her racing losses.

"The story printed that I have lost a fortune on the races at Saratoga is absolutely without foundation," the actress declared. "Why, I never bet more than the small amount I carried in my bag at the track, and very seldom has that been more than a hundred dollars. Usually it was considerably less. Besides, I always cashed my tickets, with very few exceptions, so you see I couldn't very well have lost a fortune.

"Counting all things, I believe I am a little ahead of the game. In regard to the proposed sale of some of the things in my New York house, I cannot say any more than I have already said. It is simply that I would rather sell some of the trinkets than store them while I am away. I'm not so poor that I need the money, but owing to the fact that I shall be on the road the greatest part of the next three years, I would rather have the money than the house and the furnishings. In summer I go either to Europe or to my summer home on Long Island, and to keep the things that I am to dispose of I would have to store them or rent the house, both of which are unsatisfactory at the best.

"It is a fact that I have one of the finest collections of china and bric-a-brac in New York. Last season I collected barrels of fine stuff. But I shall not sell everything. Some of my books, all of my Chinese porcelaine, the most valuable part of my collection, and a few other things will be reserved. The whole, I think, is worth about $75,000, and although the bulk of my property will go at auction, the bulk will not bring one-fourth of that even if sold at its real value. You see, if I wanted to make up my racing losses I would sell the things worth the most money. Some day, when I am again settled in New York, I shall have the pleasure of furnishing another house.

"You ask if my fortune is run down. So far as I know, its health is good. At least, it doesn't need a physician yet. It is true that I have spent lots of money, but I have made a great deal. The only way I am at all prodigal with my money is in feasting my company and buying presents for my friends, but that hasn't made me poor or anything like it.

"I have just come from the bedside of my daughter at the Good Samaritan hospital. I told her of my intention to sell some of my property and she, too, thinks it would be better than putting it in storage or renting the house out. Dorothy is improving a little daily, but it will be some time before she leaves the hospital."

GET WHAT YOU WANT

The "Just as Good Kind" Never Pays.

If there is one thing more than another that should aggravate a self-respecting person, it is to be told that the article they ask for at their druggist's is not to be had, but that they can have something "just as good or better." The principal reason for such attempts at substitution is either the desire of the storekeeper to sell something on which he can make more money, or he hasn't the goods asked for, and wants to make a sale of something in its place.

Every reader of this paper should bear in mind when asking for Vinol, the modern cod liver oil preparation that it is for sale in Sedalia at our store, only, and that it can always be had when asked for.

The reason Vinol is so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions is because it is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing and body building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for Chronic Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

No one wants an old-fashioned cod liver oil preparation or emulsion after once tasting delicious Vinol. Try it, if it fails to benefit we will return your money. W. E. Bard Drug Co., Sedalia, Mo.

An Electric Rock.

There is a story going the rounds to the effect that a rock has been discovered in the vicinity of Monterey, Mex., which by simple rubbing emits electric sparks and produces a blue light of remarkable clarity. Samples of the stone have been sent to the geological institute at Washington, D. C., and also to Thomas A. Edison for analysis.

ROUTED BY A WOMAN

Were Deputies When They Tried to Seize Her Furniture.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—Four husky tax collectors were routed by Mrs. Edwin Price, of 1208 North Missouri street, when they called to take away her furniture to make good a delinquency of $20 said to be owed by her husband to the county treasury.

When the collectors drove up with a big wagon, prepared to take out the furniture, Mrs. Price is said to have made a dash at one of them with a chair. She missed the man and smashed the furniture.

It is said that she then procured a revolver and fired three shots at the collectors, compeling them to retreat. They caused warrants to be issued for her arrest on the charge of resisting officers.

Mrs. Price gave herself up to the police. She says that she was alone when the collectors came and that she begged them not to take anything until she could see her husband about having the delinquency paid. She declares that she did not take strenuous measures to protect herself and propetry until one of the deputies struck her.

LUMBERMEN'S LITTLE BOOK

Is to Be Subject of Investigation by a Grand Jury.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 4.—The federal grand jury yesterday resumed the investigation of the "little black book" which catalogue houses dealing in lumber, and manufactured articles allege has been used by the lumber trust in an effort to ruin the mail order business.

It is now known that there was a secret meeting of lumbermen in Minneapolis last winter, and later a similar meeting of about 300 lumbermen in Chicago. The book was published here after the Chicago meeting.

Our Important Annual Harvest Sales Begin Saturday

The position held by Our Great State Fair, Harvest, Annual Sales has long been unique among the merchandising events of Missouri. Each year these sales have grown in strength and magnitude. The accumulated experience of a long series of successful business knowledge is embodied in our extensive preparations. The wide opportunities for selection and economy which have ever made our sales of distinctive interest are strongly in evidence in this sale. It is with a pardonable feeling of pleasure and pride that we announce the beginning of this sale.

Advertised low prices without the supporting crutches of style and quality are meaningless, when as now women's knowledge of both are instinctive. Large type argues nothing for worthy wear, or fashion. We prefer to always attract by the excellence of our assortments, their superiority of selection and adaptability to the varied studied wants of our patrons. Our constant aim is to give our customers better values each season, and this State Fair Harvest Sale, for One Week, beginning Saturday, will represent the extreme limit of your money purchasing power—from all departments.

"I'M AS HUNGRY AS A BEAR"

Cried Child, but the Mother Lay Dead on the Couch.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 4.—"Mamma, I am hungry as a bear!" shouted ten-year-old Samuel Virgil Waters, as he entered his home in the basement of 710 Jefferson avenue, at noon yesterday, and started to embrace the form of his mother, reclining on a couch.

The caress was not answered, and then little Samuel discovered that his mother was dead. In the hallway, sobbing piteously, were Hazel, Ethel, Edith, Gladys and Flossie, daughters of the dead woman. They range in age from 2 to 18 years.

Apparently in the best of health, Mrs. Waters, aged 54 years, dropped dead of apoplexy shortly after 11 o'clock. A few moments before she was preparing the noonday meal. The father deserted his family about two months ago. His whereabouts is unknown.

"Papa will find out that she is dead and then he will come back to us," said little Samuel as he tried in vain to comfort his sisters. Samuel is a newsboy, and his meagre earnings have been the family's main support.

MISSOURI MULE THERE

It Is Aiding in the Building of Panama Canal.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The Missouri mule is proving to be the best laborer on the Panama canal. The average number of commission mule teams working during the first quarter of this calendar year was 217. The average number sick was 21, or 10 per cent.

The cost per month, per team, to the commission, for those teams actually working, including all charges for labor, for forage, and miscellaneous, as well as expenses of sick teams, was $106.48 for the above named period.

A proposal was recently received by the commission from a contractor in the United States, who has had considerable experience in similar work in Central America, at the rate of $450 per month per team, or over four times what it is costing the commission at the present time.

KISSES GO A LONG WAY

A BISHOP ADVISES HUSBANDS TO BE MUCH MORE AFFECTIONATE.

MEN MORE SELFISH THAN WOMEN

The Rt. Rev. John Sheepshanks, the Aged Bishop of Norwich, Gives Some Advice That All Should Heed.

London, Oct. 4.—The Rt. Rev. John Sheepshanks, the aged bishop of Norwich, drew enthusiastic applause yesterday at the annual church congress, which is now in session at Yarmouth, by his views on the marriage question.

He regretfully admitted that if the clergy could unmarry as well as marry they would be far more busily employed than in the busiest times now. He said that when marriages were regretted it was largely because they had been hasty and ill-considered.

"The great causes of domestic unhappiness are selfishness and temper," he said. "Men are more selfish than women. He puts his great, sturdy arms akimbo and declares he is the one person to be considered in the home."

The bishop denounced nagging, but said that when there was a tiff the man ought to initiate reconciliation. Men ought to regard as important and remember the anniversaaries of their wedding days and their wives' birthday anniversaries and give them presents, not forgetting a good, loving kiss, asserted the bishop.

Middle aged women often complained that their husbands kissed the children but would not kiss them. Women long for a demonstration of affection. Most trouble would be avoided if men would remember this.

The bishop, in warmly urging marriage, declared that it was intended, among other things, for peopling heaven.

BOUGHT MORGAN'S PICTURE

View of Financier Goes With Every "Beer" in a Dramshop.

New York, Oct. 4.—An oil painting of J. Pierpont Morgan was sold to a saloon keeper for $35 yesterday. It was the highest bid, and the purchaser was T. J. Wallace, who dispenses liquid refreshments at 30 Sixth avenue.

Mr. Morgan's picture will adorn the wall of the saloon side by side with a stuffed ape, which brought the same price when Mr. Wallace purchased it it at a similar sale.

WOOD ALCOHOL CRAZED HIM

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—After drinking wood alcohol mixed with another material for cleaning floors, John R. King, a soldier confined in the guard house at Fort Thomas, became a raving maniac yesterday and set fire to the mattress in his cell. He died soon afterward.

King was in the guard house pending trial on the charge of desertion.

WIRE FOR STRIKE BREAKERS

Three Thousand Wanted in New Orleans to Handle Cotton.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 4.—Mayor Behrman failed yesterday to compromise the levee strike at a conference between the steamship agents and representatives of the 8,000 cotton handlers who are out in sympathy with the striking screwmen.

The screwmen's union asked the mayor to make another effort. Steamship agents consider yesterday's conference final and have wired to Chicago and St. Louis for 3,000 strike breakers.

40 OUT OF EVERY 48 MEN

To Lose Jobs, and Much Time Saved by New Coke Oven.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—Cooking in Pittsburg and Connellsville districts is to be revolutionized by the adoption of a kind of coke oven which saves hours in handling and does away with 40 men out of 48.

The sum of $1,100,000 has been invested in installing the new process and the success of it is assured by cooking experts.

It does away with circular ovens and employs boxlike structures with doors at each end. When the coke is ready for removal a plunger is sent through the oven, which completely clears it, at the same time emptying the finished coke into cars.

When it is ready to be removed from the oven it is sprayed automatically and cooled with great rapidity, expediting the matter of handling.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WANT RULES CHANGED

League to Propose Alteration in Winners' Percentage.

New York, Oct. 4.—President B. B. Johnson, of the American league, left here Wednesday night for Chicago, where the details of the world's championship series will be settled Sunday. Some changes in the rules will be proposed by President Pulliam of the National league. One will be to amend the rule which regulates the prize money award.

The National league people want the winners to receive only 60 per cent of the sum given the players instead of 75 per cent, under the present arrangements. Another proposed change will be to provide for at least two games in each of the pennant winning cities.

It is possible with the present rules to complete a series with three games in one town and only one contest in the other. A change in that rule is likely to be made.

REGARDING RAILROADS

HOMESEEKERS RATES ARE TO BE CONTINUED AFTER NOVEMBER 1.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Western and southwestern lines at a conference decided to continue the usual home-seekers' rates after Nov. 1, the date when the present rates will expire.

There was a strong disposition on the part of some of the roads to discontinue these rates and compel home seekers to pay the regular 2-cent rate, but the southwestern roads, anxious to settle their territory, said this was more important than all the passenger traffic put together, and they prevailed in the conference.

It is likely, however, that greater restrictions will be thrown about the rates and they will not be made in seasons when home seekers are not likely to travel. All the roads agreed that it was highly important to populate as speedily as possible the entire territory west of the Mississippi river.

Will Fish Win Out?

At a meeting of the local stockholders of the Illinois Central, held at Hartford, it was unanimously voted to have all the proxies of the stockholdres present turned over to Charles M. Beach, of this city, who is a director of the Illinois Central, and a supporter of Stuyvesant Fish in the fight with the Harriman interests.

Those who had sent their proxies to Mr. Harriman will cancel them. The stockholders represented over 81,000 shares. The meeting was overwhelmingly anti-Harriman, and, besides voting on the disposition of proxies, adopted resolutions.

Returned to Sedalia.

Max Wolfe, known as the "Old Reliable," a veteran employe of the Katy, who left here several months ago and since has held various positions from superintendent down to section foreman with various railroads from the great lakes to the gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is back in Sedalia, this time ably filling the position of day yard clerk for the Katy.

Max looks well and feels fine, and says he is glad to be back with Howard Pennisten and other friends in the railroad world.

Rain Stopped the Work.

Because fifteen yard men at the Missouri Pacific shops in Fort Scott were sent home yesterday morning during the shower, the entire force of car men, numbering in all more than 200, went home also and work in the department was at a standstill throughout the day.

The shops are rushed with work. It is stated that the men will return to work in the morning if it is not raining. They are contending for the erection of shelter sheds.

Gould Line is Fined.

The Missouri Pacific railroad was yesterday found guilty in the federal court at Omaha of violating the safety appliance laws. The fine is $100. On a second count the case was held for the railroad.

Both cases were taken from the jury by the judge and an instructed verdict returned. Similar cases against other roads will be heard today.

Were Royally Entertained.

Messrs. Oglesby and Wightman, of the state board of railway commissioners, recently finished an inspection of a portion of the Missouri Pacific railway, says the Kansas City Post.

They found the menu and the after-dinner cigars furnished by the Missouri Pacific fully up to requirements.

Again in Hospital.

J. P. Curran, son of Henry Curran, of this city, employed as conductor on the Katy, who was injured in the wreck at Moberly recently, is again in the hospital here, suffering from the injuries.

Mr. Curran is not getting along so well and complains of trouble with his nose.

Negro Robs Ticket Agent.

The Chicago & Alton ticket agent was held up at the point of a revolver and robbed of $37 by a negro at Marshall yesterday morning. The robber escaped from town.

Yard Limit Extended.

The Sedalia yard limit of the Missouri Pacific has been extended so as to include the state fair grounds.

This will permit the switch engines to run to and from the fair grounds without a train order from the dispatcher.

IT IS A FACT

That perfectly tailored clothing for men and young men must not only be honest in fabric and faultlessly made, but it must possess a distinguished fashion appearance—persuasive—out of the ordinary—to attract the eye, that will retain the attraction when the garments are worn, and be a daily delight to the wearer. These virtues can only be secured in Made-to-Order Garments. Those I make, for instance.

OBJECT TO NEGRO NEIGHBOR

Residents of Suburb Engage Counsel to Fight Case.

Washington, Oct. 4.—To show that colored residents can be prohibited from settling in white communities which object to the blacks and thus to draw the color line in unmistakable fashion in the national capital, are the things for which the residents of Bloomingdale have pledged their energies and resources in a flight that they will take to the highest court if necessary.

Women and men in Bloomingdale have already contributed money to the fight, secured the services of an attorney and had a suit filed in the district supreme court to enjoin a colored man from occupying a house he has bought in that suburb.

Francis De S Smith, a civil engineer, is the person whom Bloomingdale would enjoin from taking up his residence among them. It was not possible for them to ask for an injunction to prevent the sale, as the sale to the colored man had been consummated before they knew anything about it. Consequently their fight is to prevent Smith occupying the house.

In the deeds to the houses in the vicinity of the one bought by Smith, and in the original deed to that house there is a covenant that none of the houses shall be sold to negroes.

DON'T BE DECEIVED, BUT GO AND LOOK FOR YOURSELF

Now is the time of the year that every housekeeper who hasn't a good stove is thinking about buying one. There is no doubt but that the Sedalia Hardware and Grocer Co., 318 and 320 Ohio street, has the Best Stoves in Sedalia. They are sole agents for such stoves as the Round Oak, Superior Air Tight and Hot Blast (both heaters and cookers), Radiant Home Base Burners, Barlers Oil Stoves, which are guaranteed not to smoke or leave any odor. All these are made by skilled labor out of the very best material.

One Jailed, the Other Fined.

Albert Anderson and Robert Williams, negroes, charged with disturbing the peace by fighting, were arraigned for trial in Judge Rickman's court today. Williams pleaded guilty and was sent to jail for five days, and Anderson pleaded not guilty and stood trial. He was found guilty and fined $5 and costs.

LOSES LEGS; SMOKES ON

Doesn't Quit Drawing on Pipe as Train Pases Over Him.

Oil City, Pa., Oct. 4.—Patrick Curran, aged 68, for thirty-seven years a track walker on the Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad, was run down by a freight train at Wood Hill.

One leg was amputated and the other badly crushed. He was carrying an open umbrella and stepped from the main track in front of the oncoming train, realized his mistake and threw himself backward, saving his life, but his legs were caught under the wheels and the entire train passed over him.

When the crew reached him he was still pulling away on his pipe, which was in his mouth when the accident occurred.

ON SAME FARM 78 YEARS

Mrs. Durham, Oldest Resident of Randolph County, Dead.

Moberly, Mo., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Uldopia Durham, who died at her home near Jacksonville last Monday, was 93 years of age, and the oldest resident of Randolph county.

She came here from Kentucky in 1829, and for seventy-eight years resided constantly on the farm where she died, and which was deeded to her family by the government.

Her husband died in 1886. She leaves five sons and one daughter. Some of her sons are Union veterans.

Mrs. Durham was known to be the oldest woman of Randolph county. Her funeral Wednesday was conducted by Elder W. M. Featherston, at the Christian church at Jacksonville.

DELAYS MOVING TRAINS

Strikers Place Railroads in Embarrassing Plight.

Vienna, Oct. 4.—The strike of railroad employes of Austria for increased wages which began October 1 is spreading. All passenger trains were late yesterday and on some lines freight traffic is completely suspended.

This strike is being conducted according to the "passive resistance system." This consists of a literal interpretation and application of every rule and regulation governing the movement of freight and passenger trains.

These rules are so precise, cumbersome and impracticable that when carried out to the letter as the men are now doing, the movement of trains is delayed more and more every day until finally blocks occur and traffic comes to a standstill.

NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

T. Y. Cobb, the Slugger of the Detroits Ball Club.

Washington, Oct. 4.—It developed last night that the injury to T. Y. Cobb, of the Detroits, who retired from the game with Washington yesterday in the eighth inning as the result of sliding into second base, in the sixth inning, will not keep him out of the games at St. Louis.

Cobb re-opened an old wound on his leg, causing him considerable pain, and Manager Jennings took him out in order that he might not further endanger the injured limb.

MINIMUM FINE OF $6000

For a Firm for Conducting an Illegal Fish Business.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 4.—George and Emil Keeseling, John Sheridan, Arthur Hug, James Rogers and Herbert Sweeney, business men of New Carlisle, have been for a month operating a fish firm illegally, according to the confession of Charles W. Rogers, an employe who was caught running a seine in Hudson lake, this county, by Deputy State Game and Fish Commissioner Hill. All were arrested.

Had it not been discovered Hudson lake, which is a popular summer resort, would soon have been cleared of all fish, for thousands of pounds were being taken out weekly.

Deputy Prosecutor Liddell has filed sixty counts against the arrested men, under which the aggregate minimum fine against the six men will be over $6,000. The maximum fine would be four times that sum.

SHE USED RATTAN WHIP

WIFE FOUND HER HUSBAND IN THE COMPANY OF ANOTHER WOMAN.

WERE MAKING LOVE IN THE PARK

Women Fought, Were Then Arrested, and the One Who Did the "Alienating" Act Was Fined $10 in Police Court.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—Lizzie Joseph, 32 years old, was fined $10 by Judge Kleiber in the Wyoming street police court Thursday, on complaint of Mrs. Kate Fries, who found her in Laclede park Wednesday night with her husband, Dr. William A. Fries, a well known south side physician, and struck her with a rattan whip in a policeman's presence.

Mrs. Fries, who was also arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace, was released by the judge.

He afterwards explained his decision by saying thata the case was a sort of "unwritten law" one, and that the young woman's presence in the park with Dr. Fries was in itself a disturbance of the wife's peace.

Dr. Fries, who insisted on testifying in behalf of Miss Joseph, left the court without paying her fine. She did not have the $13 required for the fine and costs. She had testified that her after dark meetings with Dr. Fries were for the purpose of getting his advice as to the investment of money.

The servant's sister paid the fine and costs.

Dr. Fries was silenced by Judge Kleiber when he attempted to demonstrate that he had only met the girl on business and for consultation as to her brother's health. The court questioned him sharply about the wife's statement that they had lived apart in the same house for seven years, without speaking to each other, and that Lizzie Joseph, for ten years a servant in their home, had been the cause of their estrangement.

Dr. Fries, his wife and two sons live in a handsome brick residence at 3200 Shenandoah avenue. There is every indication of prosperity about the premises, especially in the elaborately furnished office and operating room which form a part of the physician's half of the establishment.

Since 1900, Mrs. Fries told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday, the house has been definitely divided, she and her boys occupying certain rooms and Dr. Fries occupying certain other rooms. They had not spoken to each other directly during that time and neither had trespassed on the other's apartments.

"Seven years ago, after the birth of our youngest boy," Mrs. Fries told Judge Kleiber, "we became estranged. At that time he began to treat me with coldness, and we ceased speaking to each other and began living apart.

"I was wholly in the dark until a year ago as to what or who had alienated my husband from me. Then I began to suspect Lizzie Joseph.

A few months ago I found her with my husband, who was making love to her. I discharged her at once.

"Soon I began to hear from my friends that my husband was meeting her in Laclede park at night. I found that they were going there at least two nights in the week. Twice I saw them enter the park together. Last night I noticed that my husband was not in his office, and I thought I would see if he was in the park with Lizzie. I went to the park and there I found them.

"They were seated on a bench so close together that I at first thought only one person was there. They did not seem to see me.

"I went for a policeman, meaning to have them both arrested if I could. I found the policeman a block away, and took him with me. I walked on ahead of him, and as I saw them again I was so indignant that I pulled out the whip I had taken along to protect myself and struck her. She fought me, and the policeman and the doctor had to separate us.

"My home has been ruined and my husband stolen from me. The last seven years have been worse than death to me," anda Mrs. Fries burst into tears as she left the witness chair.

FAIRBANKS'S COCKTAIL

PRESIDENTIAL BOOM BLIGHT IS LAID AT MR. ROOSEVELT'S DOOR.

A METHODIST MINISTER'S LETTER

Says if "Teddy" Had Not Asked for the Booze the Vice President Would Still Be in Race for the Big Prize.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—In a letter to President Roosevelt, which was received at the White House, Rev. Charles A. Jones, pastor of the Monroe Street Methodist Episcopal church, tells the chief executive that if he had not asked for a "Fairbanks cocktail" at the dinner given in his honor the vice president might have had some change of getting into the presidential race. The letter is in part as follows:

"My Dear Mr. President: A dispatch from Columbus, Ind., states that Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president of the United States, was defeated for delegate to the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church after one of the most bitter contests that was ever waged in a religious assembly.

"That Mr. Fairbanks is no longer a presidential, or even a vice presidential possibility cannot be doubted. His own laymen's convention of his own state and conference having refused to send him to the general conference to be held here in Baltimore next May, kills all his prospects of said nomination.

"Whether he is guilty or not of the gross impropriety of using intoxicants as a beverage, so objectionable to our church, may be aa open question, but Methodists largely believe the report. Mr. Fairbanks sowed the wind and reaps the whirlwind.

"You were the chief cause of his defeat. Mr. Fairbanks's dinner was given in your honor. You are reported as ordering what is called the 'Fairbanks cocktail.' Mr. Fairbanks had the ingredients in his home and granted your wish, so much regretted by your and his many friends. This incident retires him to private life.

"I am only a plain Methodist preacher, but you can know of me through any of your sincere admirers. —Charles A. Jones, Pastor Monroe Street Methodist Episcopal Church."

MYSTERY IN GIRL'S DEATH

Friends of Marie Sexton Believe She Was Lured From Home.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—A startling mystery was found by the police yesterday when the body of Marie Sexton, 23 years old, was found in an alley with a bullet wound in the head.

Friends of the young woman assert that she was murdered. Joseph Glisbley, who had been attentive to her for months, was taken into custody to be questioned. The girl was visited in her apartments by friends last night. The neighbors say that she was in a happy mood. They insist that she was later lured from home and killed.

Miss Sexton came to Chicago a year ago from Hot Springs, Ark. She was employed for a time on the northwest side. She was one of the best-known girls in her neighborhood.

MEETS WITH MUCH FAVOR

Announcement of W. S. Cowherd for Gubernatorial Nomination.

The announcement that W. S. Cowherd will enter the race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination has been received with much satisfaction by the country press, as is demonstrated by the many favorable comments that they are making. The Warrensburg Star says:

The many friends of ex-Congressman Cowherd, of Kansas City, are gratified to know that he has yielded to the sincere wishes of a large majority of Missouri democrats and has consented to become a candidate for governor of this great state. Mr. Cowherd has never been unmindful of the great honor which attaches to the democratic nomination and to the office of governor, but he hesitated long before announcing his intentions. To the editor of the Star he has said that to make the race would involve both personal and financial sacrifice. He is a leading attorney of Kansas City and the governor's salary is probably far beneath his present income. Besides he will of necessity be compelled to give up nearly a year to the strenuous demands of campaigning, at great outlay of time and money. He therefore was slow in coming to a decision, but watch the Cowherd candidacy assume proportions, gigantic in strength and enthusiasm, now that he has consented to run.

Are Glad to Hear It.

His many friends in Henry county will be glad to learn that Hon. William S. Cowherd, of Kansas City, will in due time enter the contest for the democratic nomination for governor.

Mr. Cowherd will prove a strong factor in the next primary, and if nominated will unite all factions. He has made a splendid record both as mayor and congressman, is a vigorous campaigner, and no better candidate can be named.—Clinton Democrat.

Has a Splendid Record.

Mr. Cowherd has been favorably mentioned by the press and democrats of the state, and he has many admirers in this city, Vernon county and Southwest Missouri. He has a splendid record as a democrat and citizen for honesty and ability, and as he is a fine campaigner, Mr. Cowherd will certainly have to be reckoned with in the coming contest for the high honor.—Nevada Mail.

SURVEY BEING MADE

Line Located as Far as Fayetteville Wednesday.

The railroad from this city to Warrensburg and on south to Clinton will be built unless all signs fail, says the Higginsville Jeffersonian. Captain Belt and a force of surveyors began locating the road at Warrensburg, coming this way. They had reached Fayetteville, ten miles this side of Warrensburg, Wednesday night. The rain of yesterday prevented work.

Yesterday morning we called up John P. Greer, between this city and Warrensburg, and he said the surveyors had a splendid grade, better than had been expected. After they leave Fayetteville (Hazel Hill) they will have a stretch of eight miles before a culvert is needed. From that point on to this city the grade will be good.

The entrance to Higginsville will probably be near the fair grounds. That is, if the right of way can be secured from the farmers south of the fair grounds. If they object the route will be changed.

CUT WRISTS AND THROAT

Killing of Woman Years Ago Caused Him to Commit Suicide.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 4.—James Phillips, a railroad employe, in a fit of despondency, slashed the arteries in both wrists with a razor and then cut his throat, death ensuing an hour later.

Twenty years ago Phillips shot and killed Mrs. William Clarkson in this city. He was arrested, charged with murder, and, although he claimed the shooting was accidental, he was given a term of years in state prison.

Friends claim that he never ceased to brood over the killing of the woman and that it was this that drove him to take his life.

The defendants freely admitted taking the money, but contended that it was "all a joke to scare Hunt." They said they had dummy guns, made of wood.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. FREE JESSIE MORRISON

MOVEMENT TO SECURE PARDON HAS BEEN BEGUN AT EL DORADO, KAS.

PATHETIC APPEAL IS BEING MADE

The Father of the Woman Convicted of Killing Mrs. Castle Is Reported to Be Near Death's Door at Present.

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 4.— The friends of Jessie Morrison, the Kansas woman convicted of murder, have decided to ask Governor Hoch to grant her a pardon and they are soliciting letters to aid them when the application is presented.

The leading prison officials are in receipt of a letter requesting their assistance, which was sent out by T. A. Kramer, an attorney of Eldorado, Kan.

The letter to the prison officials says, in part:

Judge M. H. Morrison, the father of Jessie Morrison, who is now confined in the peniteitiary, is old and feeble and crippled and afflicted with what is supposed to be an incurable disease. He has only a short time to live. He is continually worrying about her imprisonment, and if there is anything on earth that would do him any good or give him a further chance for life it would be to have her free.

He has absolutely nothing. In fact, is living on the charity of his relatives. We have decided to make an application for her pardon. We believe that she has suffered long enough and fully as long as will do any good. We would like to have you write a letter to the governor, recommending that she be pardoned. In your letter we would be pleased to have you state how she has deported herself since she has been a prisoner and anything else that you can that will help us.

Jessie Morrison was convicted of having killed Clara Wiley Castle, the bride of Olin Caste, in Edorado in June, 1901. It was charged that Miss Morrison was in love with Olin Castle and was disappointed when he married Clara Wiley.

There was a fight one day in the Castle home. Both Mrs. Castle and Miss Morrison were cut with a razor. Mrs. Castle wrote a dying statement, saying Jessie Morrison attacked her.

THREATS AGAINST A MAN

WHO HAD WITNESSED THE KILLING OF A SHERIFF IN FLORIDA.

IT WAS FOLLOWED BY HIS MURDER

The Theory That Charles Gougar Was Slain Has Strong Supporter in the Person of Man Who Held Inquest.

Vevay, Ind., Oct. 4.—A telegram from Lawtey, Fla., announces that Charles Gougar, whose wife was formerly Miss Lulu Protsman, of this city, was murdered in his home there while alone, his wife having left the day before for Washington, D. C., where her father and two sisters reside.

Coupled with the story of his death was the report that Gougar had been an eye witness to the killing of the sheriff of Bradford county, Fla., and that his life had been threatened should he tell what he knew about the tragedy.

It is thought by some that he was killed by some person interested in keeping secret the facts of the sheriff's death, while another report is that Gougar and his wife did not live happily together, and that he may have taken his life when he found that she had left him for her father's home.

It has been claimed that recently Gougar's mind became unbalanced, and during spells they did not agree causing her to threaten several times to leave him.

The theory of murder has a strong support in the person of the coroner of Lawtey, who returned a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties. This is based on the fact that in addition to traces of shot gun balls, those of rifle bullets were also found ,showing that part of the deadly discharge passed through the door while the rest did not.

Gougar came from Lexon, Ill. He and Miss Protsman, daughter of a wealthy citizen of this city, met at the Chicago world's fair, corresponded and were married, after which they settled in Lawtey, Fla., where they have since lived.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says: "Fully 80 per cent of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds it beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it, or when you eat the wrong kind of food, the digestive organs cannot possibly do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help; it demands help, and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

WHY DID BRIDGE FALL?

CAUSE OF THE ACCIDENT NEAR QUEBEC IS NOT YET EXPLAINED.

BRIDGE MEN ARE ANXIOUS TO KNOW

Experts Checking Figures Involved in Great Structure—The Government Also Is Conducting an Investigation.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4.—No explanation of the cause of the collapse of the greatest cantilever bridge in the world, which was being erected across the St. Lawrence river, five miles from Quebec, August 29, has been made.

Experts have been busy since the disaster, but no conclusion as to the cause of the disaster has been reached.

The detailed figures involved in the structure are being checked and in this way the cause of the disaster may be ascertained. The government is also investigating.

"We had no connection with the work," said W. R. Freeman, of the American Bridge company, which has an office here, "but every bridge builder is, of course, interested in a conclusion as to the cause of the disaster.

"It has been discussed by the engineering journals and other technical publications, but no satisfactory explanation has been made. It would not surprise me if the direct cause is never discovered.

"The reports are to the effect that the foundations are intact, but the steel work so effectually collapsed that it may be impossible to discover the weakness in the span or in the construction that made possible the calamity.

"The details of a bridge are always carefully figured out in advance. In estimating the assembling of masses of steel, mistakes may have been made in figuring out the load to be carried. Possibly stress here or there was underestimated.

"There may have been some miscalculation, which produced more weight at some particular point than was intended. It may be that carrying out the weight to the proportions necessary for so large a structure, the increased stress was not properly calculated.

"The answer may be found when the investigations now pending are completed. It may take weeks to check up the figures and find the fault, if any exists."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

W. S. COWHERD WANTS IT

CANDIDATE FOR DEMOCRATIC GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION NEXT YEAR.

KANSAS CITY JOURNAL'S STORY

Reed May Stand for the Nomination, Also—No Agreement by Which He Has Capitulated, His Friends Declare.

Ex-Congressman William S. Cowherd, of this city, has anounced through the medium of a Sedalia newspaper (the Democrat-Sentinel) that he will make the campaign for the nomination of governor on the democratic ticket, says Thursday's Kansas City Journal.

"There was no especial motive for announcing my candidacy at just this time," said Mr. Cowherd, last night, "further than that I have been urged to do so by my friends, and many of the papers of the state have asked editorially and otherwist where I stood. I have had the matter of becoming a candidate for the nomination under consideration for a year or more. Prior to that time, for business reason, I did not think I would go into politics again.

"I think the time is auspicious, in Missouri, for the democrats to elect a governor, and there are several causes for this opinion. In the first place, while we admire Mr. Roosevelt as a man very much, the democratic party in this state does not admire his political policy or administration. His centralizaton ideas are, I think, particularly obnoxious to the rank and file of the party.

"Mr. Hadley, who may or may not be the opponent of the democratic nomnee in this state, also has my greatest respect as a man, but his political administration as indicated by what he has already done and said would, I believe, be far from what the people want. Missouri democrats are unalterably opposed to a high tariff, which is the keystone of the present national administration.

"This state belongs in the democratic column, and I do not think the time has been so auspicious for putting her back there for many years as it is right now.

"Were the democratic nominee to be selected by a delegate convention, I would not run under any consideration, for I will not be a candidate of any wing or faction of the party. But the fact that the candidate must be selected at the primaries puts the matter in a different light to me.

"I do not care at just this time to be quoted with regard to any possible candidate other than those already announced. Mr. Ball is already in the field, and Mr. Wells, of Platte, is also pretty sure in the race. They are both good democrats, either one of whom would have the supprt of the party. I have made no trade or arrangement with anybody, nor shall I do so. If I win, it will be in the most straightforward and out-and-out fashion possible.

"I expect when the time seems right, next spring or early summer, to make a campaign of the state, but I am unable at this time to tell just when or where I shall begin. It will depend on the circumstances at the time."

J. A. Reed could not be found last night, but Jacques Harvey, his official representative, said:

"The anouncement of Mr. Cowherd does not mean that Mr. Reed will not become a candidate for the nomination. There is no agreement between Mr. Reed and Mr. Cowherd relative to the latter's anouncement which puts Mr. Reed out of the matter."

STOP THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Weakens the Tissues and Lessens Organic itality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends towards stomach trouble.

Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Sedalia and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic, stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into such condition that it does the work Nature expects of it.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in its curative action that the W. E. Bard Drug Co., with every 50-cent box they sell, give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.

SLAYS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Claude P. Perry Leaves Note Indicating Reason for Crime.

New York, Oct. 4.—Rather than endure separation from his wife, which might have followed his transfer to another post, it is believed that Claude H. Perry, a soldier of the Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Hamilton, shot and killed his wife, Elizabeth, Wednesday night and then committed suicide.

Their bodies were found yesterday in their apartments in Brooklyn. Perry left a note indicating that his action was due to an apprehension that he was soon to be transferred and separated from his wife.

Perry enlisted in Omaha in 1905, and was a native of Jackson county, Mo.

He Didn't Like Pickles.

See what the brute of a man who runs the Platte City Landmark says: "A reader signing himself 'Victim' wants to know what he can do to persuade his wife not to make pickles and preserves of watermeoln rinds. We are unable to help him.

"When a wife falls victim to a habit of pickling or preserving watermeon rinds her case is hopeless. The one thing to do is to set a watch and see that she does not pickle or preserve the potato peelings."

SHIP CARPENTERS STRIKE

Workmen at Paducah, Ky., Demand $3.50 for Nine Hours.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 4.—Two hundred and fifty ship carpenters here have formally demanded an increase in wages and give the employers until Monday to answer. They demand $3.50 for nine hours' work, against the present $3. The demands have been made on the Paducah dry docks, Paducah marine railway, Ayer and Lord docks and West Kentucky Coal company docks.

It is said that similar action will be taken at Mound City, Ill., and also at other points on the Ohio. There is abundance of work at local docks and unless the demands are met it means a general tie-up in marine industry here.

WERE HURT IN A WRECK

Wabash Accommodation and Freight Train Met.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—Ten persons, including the firemen of both trains, were slightly injured at 10:40 a. m. yesterday when an accommodation train collided head-on with a freight train on the Wabash railroad at Bluffs, Ill., fifty-three miles east of Hannibal. All were able to resume their journey after a delay of three hours in clearing the track.

St. Louis officials of the Wabash lay the blame for the accident on the crew of the freight train, who failed to give the accommodation the right of way.

The two trains came together in a driving rain. Passengers were thrown from their seats. The firemen and engineers jumped when it was seen that it was impossible to avoid a crash.

The accommodation is a slow train and officials said nobody was in great danger.

The passenger train was bound from East Keokuk, Ill., to Decatur. The collision locked the pilots of the engines and threw them from the track. The box cars were derailed.

KICKED WIFE DOWN STAIRS

Then He Beat His Boy and Swift Punishment Threatened.

Conneaut, O., Oct. 4.—Through the story of his 14-year-old son, Del Lawrence, a farmer of Pierpont, near this city, was lodged in jail here, charged with assault with intent to kill, his wife being his alleged victim. He is held in default of $4,000 bail.

The boy told neighbors that his father came home, learned that Mrs. Lawrence had attended an entertainment in company with neighbors the night before, and then beat her and kicked her down stairs, seriously injuring her back.

Infuriated, the farmers of the community began organizing a white cap band, when Lawrence was arrested by sheriff's deputies. The boy said he had been beaten when he attempted to interfere in his mother's behalf.

For business reasons had determined not to again bece a candidate for any office, but would be more or less than humdid I not feel flattered by the ction of my name with the posin of governor of the great state Missouri.

I confess, too, the kitreception many of the democratic prs of the state have given to thuggestion of my candidacy has beexceedingly gratifying to me.

I have felt, as you sest, that the party in the next canign could not afford to make a mke. We must place Missouri backere she belongs, and where the vanajority of her best citizenship des to see her—at the head of the nocratic column.

Th success of the causis so much more important than gratification of any man's pnal ambitions that I have hesitatto become a candidate for fear it myself in the position of seg personal preferment, rather th party success.

My services are now, as I have always been, at the commanf my party.

I will not and shall not me a candidate of any wing or fac If, however, the thoughtful demts of the state believe I am the pr person to nominate in the ncampaign, I am willing to becon candidate.

And in view of the fact thader our present primary law thurty can select its candidate onfrom those who are before it at primary, I will state to you now at the proper time I shall enthe race. Yours very truly.—W. owherd.

This will be good news the whole democratic party of thee, and will to a great extent clee political atmosphere and give pcratics an apportunity of selecn candidate who in every respesesses the requirements for thee in an eminent degree.

With the announcement it pected that prompt steps will ben by Mr. Cowherd's friends to his candidacy and to bring those not now familiar with hi ord the splendid capabilities hesesses, not only as a party lbut to make the state a brillian sagacious chief executive.

Mrs. Edna Sharpe, Daughter of Prof. J. P. Gass, Was Employed as Director of Music—The Building a Total Loss.

(Wednesday's Daily.)

Prof. J. P. Gass received a telegram from his daughter, Mrs. Edna Sharpe, at Ardmore, I. T., today, announcing the burning there last midnight of Hargrove college, in which Mrs. Sharpe was employed as director of music. Mrs. Sharpe wired that the building was a total loss, and that she lost all of her trunks and personal effects, as, it is supposed, did the entire faculty and pupils.

Prof. Gass has at his home here a picture of the college as it stood before the fire. It was a large three-story frame structure and had about 200 pupils enrolled.

It was one of the leading institutions of learning in the southwest, and it is believed the loss will foot up between $20,000 and $30,000.

Mrs. Sharpe was formerly director of music at Hardin college at Mexico, Mo., and is one of the best known and most popular musicians in the state.

"TEDDY" IS IN ST. LOUIS

PRESIDENT ARRIVES IN MOUND CITY AND IS WELCOMED BY THOUSANDS.

DELIVERED A WATERWAYS SPEECH

Procession Was Caught in Downpour of Rain Which Drenched All in Line—Wants Stronger Federal Control.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—St. Louis today was splendid in its decorations, from the harbor front of the Mississippi river to the residence districts, and through the entire business center. River craft, from the steamboats, tied up at their wharves, and stilled from traffic for the day, down to the smallest launches, were decorated and festooned in honor of the visit of President Roosevelt, whose entry into the city at 10 o'clock was made through the river harbor.

With the dawn people began assembling on the Eads bridge to secure vantage points from which to view the president's arrival, and another throng gathered about the wharf, where his boat, the Mississippi, made its landing.

Along the streets in the downtown section, marking the route over which the president was driven to the building in the western portion of the city to make his address, thousands of person gathered and cheered him. The blowing of hundreds of steam whistles marked his arrival at the wharf.

By the time the procession had proceeded eight blocks from the wharf there was a terrific downpour of rain, and the president and his welcoming hosts were drenched to the skin. The horses were at once whipped up, and regardless of the processional formation, the chief executive was hurried to the building where the speech-making took place. At the hall a crowd that filled the place to its capacity greeted Mr. Roosevelt, and he was accorded a great ovation.

The President's Address.

It is a very real pleasure to address this body of citizens of Missouri here in the great city of St. Louis. I have often visited St. Louis before, but always by rail. Now I am visiting it in the course of a trip by water, a trip on the great natural highway which runs past your very doors—a highway once so important, now almost abandoned, which I hope this nation will see not only restored to all its former usefulness, but given a far greater degree of usefulness to correspond with the extraordinary growth in wealth and population of the Mississippi valley.

We have lived in an era of phenomenal railroad building. As routes for merchandise, the iron highways have completely supplanted the old wagon roads, and under the competition the importance of the waterways has been much diminished. The growth of the railway system has been rapid all over the world, but nowhere so rapid as in the United States. Accompanying this there has grown in the United States a tendency toward the practically complete abandonment of the system of water transportation. Such a tendency is certainly not healthy and I am convinced that it will not be permanent.

There are many classes of commodities, especially those which are perishable in their nature, and where the value is high relatively to the bulk, which will always be carried by rail. But bulky commodities which are not of a perishable nature will always be specially suited for the conditions of water transport.

Old World's Canal System.

To illustrate the truth of this statement it would only be necessary to point to the use of the canal system in many countries of the Old World; but it can be illustrated even better by what has happened nearer home. The Great Lakes offer a prime example of the importance of a good water highway for mercantile traffic. As the line of traffic runs through lakes, the conditions are in some respects different from what must obtain on even the most important river. Nevertheless, it is well to remember that a very large part of this is conditioned upon an artificial waterway, a canal—the famous Soo. The commerce that passes through the Soo far surpasses in bulk and in value that of the Suez canal.

From every standpoint it is desirable for the nation to join in improving the greatest system of river highways within its borders, a system second only in importance to the highway afforded by the great lakes; the highways of the Mississippi and its great tributaries, such as the Missouri and Ohio

This river system traverses too many states to render it possible to leave merely the states the task of fitting it for the greatest use of which it is capable. It is emphatically a national task, for this great river system is itself one of our chief national assets.

Within the last few years there has been an awakening in this country to the need of both the conservation and development of our national resources under the supervision of and

HE LIVED IN SEDALIA FOR YEARS

Accidentally Shot Carl Gilg, and Although Exonerated by the Dying Man, He Was Tried for the Killing.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Louis D. Bolton, a former resident of Sedalia, at which time he was prominent as an organizer for a well known fraternal order, is written of as follows in a Perry, Okla., dispatch of the 1st inst.:

"A message today from Raton, N. M., states that L. D. Bolton, prominent in Missouri and Oklahoma democratic politics, was acquitted there on a charge of murdering Carl Gilg, a wealthy sheep ranchman of Clayton, N. M., in July, 1906. Bolton was attacked at Clayton by ruffians and in firing a revolver shot Gilg by mistake.

KILLED ONE OF THE HORSES

Team Belonging to R. C. Dolph Ran Away This Afternoon.

(Wednesday's Daily.)

A valuable delivery horse, owned by the R. C. Dolph Grocery company, received a fracture of the left hind leg and several painful and ugly cuts about the body in a runaway accident on South Ohio avenue this afternoon. As a result the animal had to be killed.

A team of horses, owned by the firm, hitched to one of the company's delivery wagons, in charge of Lester Ayers, was standing in front of the barber shop adjoining Wright's meat market, at Seventh and Ohio avenue. They took fright at something unknown and ran south on the thoroughfare.

An East Sedalia car coming up town, in charge of Conductor Webster, with Motorman Avery on the front end, was directly in the path of the runaway team. The motorman stopped the car quite a distance ahead of the team, but the frightened animals continued their flight and collided headlong with the street car.

The hind leg of one of the horses was broken, just above the knee, and several painful cuts were made on the animal's body. The other horse escaped injury. The wagon tongue was broken, but the driver escaped uninjured.

WHY MR. COWHERD.

The fact that ex-Congressman Cowherd, of Kansas City, has definitely decided to enter the race for the democratic nomination for governor will be good news, not only to that gentleman's personal friends, but also to the vast majority of the party throughout the state.

There has never been a time since democracy resumed control of the state, in 1872, when there existed so much necessity for the exercise of prudence and wisdom in the selection of a candidate as is demanded now, when the slightest mistake will mean, perhaps, defeat at the polls.

In such an emergency, personal ambitions, partisan strife and petty jealousies should not be permitted to influence the vote of any member of the party in naming a choice for head of the ticket. In fact, the choosing of the candidate for that office at this time is a patriotic duty, and should be performed with a solemn realization of what the result would mean should the selection fall upon a man who does not possess all those characteristics which the people now require of every candidate for high official position.

In the judgment of this paper Mr. Cowherd has every one of these attributes in the highest degree.

A careful consideration of his private and professional life, and a close scanning of his record as mayor of Kansas City for four years and as congressman for six years, leads to the unalterable conclusion that he combines every requisite necessary to lead a great party to victory, with all the exalted qualities of statesmanship and manhood demanded of one who would be chief executive of the great state of Missouri.

In all the commonwealth there is no manlier man, no more upright official, no cleaner, more honest citizen, and his selection would be another triumph for the cause of good government and the higher ideals of public life.

Because of all things, therefore, and with an earnest desire for the best interests of the party and of the state, the Democrat-Sentinel commends Mr. Cowherd to the democratic voters as the one man, above all others, who should be its standard bearer in the coming state campaign.

SHOULD RECOGNIZE THE CALL.

The republicans of Missouri have practically decided upon Attorney General Hadley as their candidate for governor in 1908. No other name is mentioned, and it is to be presumed that none other is even thought of by either the leaders or the voters of that party, and it is a foregone conclusion that with or without that gentleman's consent, he will lead the state ticket.

There is no disputing the fact that Mr. Hadley will be a strong candidate. He has kept himself persistently in the limelight since the first day he entered upon his present position, and while he has accomplished nothing in his crusade against the trusts, he has undoubtedly entrenched himself mightily with the rank and file of republicans, and at the same time, through failure of results, has not in the slightest antagonized that powerful element of the party, which is hand and glove with the very interests against which his spectacular crusade has been waged. These things being true, with the republicans united upon a man who is, whether rightly or wrongly, extremely popular, it behooves the Democrats to awaken to the necessity of quickly agreeing upon a man to lead the fight against Mr. Hadley, who possesses all the elements of popularity enjoyed by that gent[illegible] other characteristics of strength and ability which are not his.

The Democrat-Sentinel believes, as it has said before, that in the person of W. S. Cowherd the party possesses a man who combines all the elements that go toward making not only an ideal candidate, but better still, an ideal official, and together with thousands of good democrats throughout the state, is anxious for him to announce his willingness to lead the coming battle.

Mr. Cowherd has been honored by his party in the past, and though it may entail some sacrifices upon his part to enter this race, nevertheless, as the strongest man in the state today, he owes it to the democracy to volunteer his splendid leadership at this time, when, it must be confessed, the enemy is stronger in Missouri than at any time since the days immediately following the civil war.

If Mr. Cowherd should announce now it would unquestionably settle the matter of candidacy, and the party could then, as the republicans are now, begin work toward lining up its forces for the real battle on election. day. Those others who are candidates for the nomination would quickly realize the logic of the situation, and where they are now each separately exerting themselves to win, would unite to make the coming victory the most glorious in the party's history.

The Democrat-Sentinel has no motive in saying that Mr. Cowherd is the logical candidate and asking him to announce himself beyond an honest desire to further the best interests of the party, and to perpetuate in Missouri a government representing the principles of democracy. It knows that Mr. Cowherd stands for all that is best and cleanest in public life, that he has extraordinary ability, good judgement, unimpeached and unimpeachable character, and unites in his person all those exalted qualities that the people in these days demand, and because of this knowledge it has taken the liberty of saying just what it believes to be true regarding existing conditions.

In view of these facts, it sincerely trusts that Mr. Cowherd will recognize the call of his party, and without delay place himself on record as being willing to carry it to still another triumph.

THE LATE AUGUST BONDI

Kansas City Star Says He Was Educated for Jewish Rabbi.

The death of August Bondi, of Salina, Kas., which occurred at St. Louis Monday, removes one of the earliest of the Kansas pioneers, says the Kansas City Star.

Mr. Bondi during the past few years has made his home at Salina, but he came to Kansas in the early '50s and was engaged with John Brown in the operations of the hero of Osawatomie in the warfare of the Border troubles—the period which gained for that state the title of "Bleeding Kansas."

Mr. Bondi was educated as a Jewish rabbi, but his sympathy for the movement to abolish slavery led him to enlist with Brown and the early Kansas Jayhawkers. He was a follower of Horace Greeley in his early political affiliations and was one of the founders of the town of Greeley, in Anderson county. After the war Mr. Bondi became prominent in Central Kansas politics as a factor in the democratic and populist parties.

Despite his years, he was an aggressive campaign worker even in the election of 1906, when he stumped Saline county for Col. W. A. Harris. It is probable that the statement is correct that August Bondi was the last survivor of the band of abolitionists who actually fought in John Brown's bouts.

WILL PLAY IN SEDALIA

Football Between Kemper and Wentworth Thanksgiving.

(Tuesday's Daily)

Capt. R. A. Johnston, of Kemper school at Boonville, was in the city yesterday arranging for the annual football game between his school and Wentworth Military Acadamy, of Lexington. The game will be played here on Thanksgiving day, and, as usual, will attract a large crowd both from Lexington and Boonville as well as many other places.

Both teams are in fine shape and a splendid contest may be expected.

These schools are members of the Missouri Valley Military School Athletic League, composed of Wentworth Military Acadamy, Kemper Military school and Bless Military Acadamy at Macon, Mo., and this will undoubtedly be the championship game of the season.

by the aid of the federal government. This is especially true of all that concerns our running waters. On mountains from which the springs start we are now endeavoring to preserve the forests which regulate the water supply and prevent too startling variations between droughts and freshets. Below the mountains, in the high dry regions of the western plains, we endeavor to secure the proper utilization of the waters for irrigation. This is at the sources of the streams. Farther down, where they become navigable, our aim must be to try to develop a policy which shall secure the utmost advantage from the navigable waters.

Building of Levees.

Finally, on the lower courses of the Mississippi, the nation should do its full share in the work of levee building, and, incidentally to its purpose of serving navigation, this will also prevent the ruin of alluvial bottoms by floods. Our knowledge is not sufficiently far advanced to enable me to speak definitely as to the plans which should be adopted; but let me say one word of warning:

The danger of entering on any such scheme lies in the adoption of impossible and undesirable plans, plans the adoption of which means an outlay of money extravagant beyond all proportion to the return, or which, though feasible, are not, relatively to other plans, of an importance which warrant their adoption. It will not be easy to secure the assent of a fundamentally cautious people like our own to the adoption of such a policy as that I hope to see adopted; and even if we begin to follow out such a policy it certainly will not be preserved in if it is found to entail reckless extravagance or to be tainted with jobbery. The interests of the nation as a whole must be always the first consideration.

This is properly a national movement, because all interstate and foreign commerce, and the improvements and methods of carrying it on, are subjects for national action. Moreover, while of course the matter of the improvement of the Mississippi river and its tributaries is one which especially concerns the great middle portion of our country, the region between the Alleghenies and the Rockies, yet it is of concern to the rest of the country also, for it cannot too often be said that whatever is really beneficial to one part of our country is ultimately of benefit to the whole. Exactly as it is a good thing for the interior of our country that the ports on the Atlantic and the Pacific should be safe and commodious, so it is to the interest of the dwellers on the coast that the interior should possess ample facilities for the transportation of its products. Our interests are all closely interwoven, and in the long run it will be found that we go up or go down together.

The Panama Canal.

Take, for instance, the Panama canal. If the Mississippi is restored to its former place of importance as a highway of commerce, then the building of the Panama canal will be felt as an immediate advantage to the business of every city and country district in the Mississippi valley. I think that the building of that canal will be of especial advantage to the states that lie along the Pacific and the states that lie along the Gulf; and yet, after all, I feel that the advantage will be shared in an only less degree by the states of the interior and of the Atlantic coast.

In other words, it is a thoroughly national work, undertaken for and redounding to the advantage of all of us—to the advantage of the nation as a whole. Therefore I am glad to be able to report to you how well we are doing with the canal. There is bound to be a certain amount of experiment, a certain amount of feeling our way, in a task so gigantic—a task greater than any of its kind that has hitherto been undertaken in the whole history of mankind; but the success so far has been astonishing, and we have not met with a single one of the accidents or drawbacks which I freely confess I expected we should from time to time encounter.

We, in the first place, laid the foundation for the work by securing the most favorable possible conditions as regard the health, comfort, and safety of the men who were to do it; and now the canal zone is in point of health better off than the average district of the same size at home. Then we went at the problem of the actual digging and dam building. For over a year past we have been engaged in making the dirt fly in good earnest, and the output of the giant steam shovels has steadily increased. It is now the rainy season, when work is most difficult on the isthmus, yet in the month of August last we excavated over a million and two hundred thousand cubic yards of earth and rock, a greater amount than in any previous month. If we are able to keep up substantially the rate of progress that now obtains we shall finish the actual digging within five or six years; though when we come to the great Gatun dam and locks, while there is no question as to the work being feasible there are several elements entering into the time problem which make it unwise at present to hazard a prophecy in reference thereto.

The American Navy.

Now, gentlemen, this leads me up to another matter for national consideration, and that is our navy. The navy is not primarily of importance only to the coast regions. It is every bit as much the concern of the farmer who dwells a thousand miles from sea water as of the fisherman who makes his living on the ocean, for it is the concern of every good American who knows what the meaning of the word patriotism is.

This country is definitely committed to certain fundamental policies—to the Monroe doctrine, for instance, and to the duty not only of building, but, when it is built, of policing and defending the Panama canal. We have definitely taken our place among the great world powers, and it would be a sign of ignoble weakness, having taken such a place, to shirk its responsibilities. Therefore, unless we are willing to abandon this place, to abandon our insistence upon the Monroe doctrine, to give up the Panama canal, and to be content to acknowledge ourselves a weak and timid nation, we must steadily build up and maintain a great fighting navy. Our navy is already so efficient as to be a matter of just pride to every American. So long as our navy is no larger than at present, it must be considered as an elementary principle that the bulk of our battle fleet must always be kept together.

When the Panama canal is built it can be transferred without difficulty from one part of our coast to the other; but even before that canal is built it ought to be transferred to and fro from time to time. In a couple of months our fleet of great armored ships starts for the Pacific. California, Oregon and Washington have a coast line which is our coast line just as emphatically as the coast line of New York and Maine, of Louisiana and Texas.

Our Fleet to the Pacific.

Our fleet is going to its own home waters in the Pacific and after a stay there it will return to its own home waters in the Atlantic. The best place for a naval officer to learn his duties is at sea, by performing them, and only by actually putting through a voyage of this nature, a voyage longer than any ever before undertaken by as large a fleet of any nation, can we find out just exactly what is necessary for us to know as to our naval needs and practice our officers and enlisted men in the highest duties of their profession. Among all our citizens there is no body of equal size to whom we owe quite as much as to the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy of the United States, and I bespeak from you the fullest and heartiest support, in the name of our nation and of our flag, for the services to which these men belong.

In conclusion I wish to say a word to this body, containing as it does so many business men, upon what is preeminently a business proposition, and that is the proper national supervision and control of corporations. At the meeting of the American Bar association in this last August, Judge Charles F. Amidon, of North Dakota, read a paper on the nation and the constitution so admirable that it is deserving of very wide study; for what he said was, as all studies of law in its highest form ought to be, a contribution to constructive jurisprudence as it should be understood not only by judges, but by legislators, not only by those who interpret and decide the law, but by those who make it and who administer or execute it. He quoted from the late Justice Miller, of the supreme court, to show that even in the interpretation of the constitution by this, the highest authority of the land, the court's successive decisions must be tested by the way they work in actual application to the national life; the court adding to its thought and study the results of experience and observation until the true solution is evolved by a process both of inclusion and exclusion. Said Justice Miller: "The meaning of the constitution is to be sought as much in the national life as in the dictionary;" for, as has been well said, government purely out of a law library can never be really good government.

Constitution to Remain as It Is.

Now that the questions of government are becoming so largely economic, the majority of our so-called constitutional cases really turn not upon the interpretation of the instrument itself, but upon the construction, the right apprehension of the living conditions to which it is to be applied. The constitution is now and must remain what it always has been; but it can only be interpreted as the interests of the whole people demand, if interpreted as a living organism, designed to meet the conditions of life and not of death; in other words, if interpreted as Marshall interpreted it, as Wilson declared it should be interpreted. The Marshall theory, the theory of life and not of death, allows to the nation, that is to the people as a whole, when once it finds a subject within the national cognizance, the widest and freest choice of methods for national control, and sustains every exercise of national power which has any reasonable relation to national objects. The negation of this theory, for instance, that the nation—that we, the ninety millions of people of this country—will be left helpless to control the huge corporations which now domineer in our industrial life, and that they will have the authority of the courts to work their desires unchecked; and such a decision would in the end be as disastrous for them as for us. If the theory of the Marshall school prevails, then an immense field of national power, now unused, will be developed, which will be adequate for dealing with many, if not all, of the economic problems which vex us; and we shall be saved from the ominous threat of a constant vascillation between economic tyranny and economic chaos. Our industrial, and therefore our social, future as a nation depends upon settling aright this urgent question.

The constitution is unchanged and unchangeable save by amendment in due form. But the conditions to which it is to be applied have undergone a change which is almost a transformation, with the result that many subjects formerly under the control of the states have come under the control of the nation. As one of the justices of the supreme court has recently said: "The growth of national powers, under our constitution, which marks merely the great outlines and designates only the great objects of national concern, is to be compared to the growth of a country not by the geographical enlargement of its boundaries, but by the increase of its population."

One Hundred Years Ago.

A hundred years ago there was, except the commerce which crawled along our seacoast or up and down our interior waterways, practically no interstate commerce. Now, by the railroad, the mails, the telegraph, and the telephone an immense part of our commerce is interstate. By the transformation it has escaped from the power of the state and come under the power of the nation. Therefore there has been a great practical change in the exercise of the national power, under the acts of congress, over interstate commerce; while on the other hand there has been no noticeable change in the exercise of th national power "to regulate commerce with foreign nations and with the Indian tribes." The change as regards interstate commence has been not in the constitution, but in the business of the people to which it is to be applied. Ou economic and social future depends in a very large part upon how the interstate commerce power of the nation is interpreted.

I believe that the nation has the whole governmental power over interstate commerce and the widest discretion in dealing with that subject; of course under the express limits prescribed in the constitution for the exercise of all powers, such for instance as the condition that "due process of law" shall not be denied. The nation has no direct power over purely interstate commerce, even where it is conducted by the same agencies which sonduct interstate commerce. The courts must determine what is national and what is state commerce. The same reasoning which sustained the power of congress to incorporate the United States bank tends to sustain the power to incorporate an interstate railroad, or any other corporation conducting an interstate business.

Dual Form of Government.

There are difficulties arising from our dual form of government. If they prove to be insuperable resort must be had to the power of amendment. Let us first try to meet them by an exercise of all the powers of the national government which in the Mashall spirit of broad interpretation can be found in the constitution as it is. They are of vast extent. The chief economic question of the day in this country is to provide a sovereign for the great corporations engaged in interstate business; that is, for the railroads and the interstate industrial corporations. At the moment our prime concern is with the railroads. When railroads were first built they were purely local in character. Their boundaries were not coextensive even with the boundaries of one state. They usually covered but two or three counties. All this has now changed. At present five great systems embody nearly four-fifths of the total mileage of the country. All the most important railroads are no longer state roads, but instruments of interstate commerce. Probably 85 per cent of their business is interstate business. It is the nation alone which can with wisdom, justice, and effectiveness exercise over these interstate railroads the through and complete supervision which should be exercised.

Interstate Commerce Control.

One of the chief, and probably the chief, of the domestic causes for the adoption of the constitution was the need to confer upon the nation exclusive control over interstate commerce. But this grant of power is worthless unless it is held to confer thoroughgoing and complete control over practically the sole instrumetalities of interstate commerce—the interstate railroads. The railroads themselves have been exceedingly shortsighted in the rancorous bitterness which they have shown against the resumption by the nation of this long-neglected power. Great capitalists, who pride themselves upon their extreme conservatism, often believe they are acting in the interests of proerty when following a course so shortsighted as to be really in assault upon property. They have shown extreme unwisdom in their violent opposition to the assumption of complete control over the railroads by the federal government. The American people will not tolerate the happy-go-lucky system of no control over the great interstate railroads, with the insolent and manifold abuses which have so generally accompanied it. The control must exist somewhere; and unless it is by thoroughgoing and radical law placed upon the statute books of the nation, it will be exercised in ever-increasing measure by the several states. The same considerations which made the founders of the constitution deem it imperative that the nation should have complete control of interstate commerce apply with peculiar force to the control of interstate railroads at the present day; and the arguments of Madison, of Virginia; Pinckney, of South Carolina, and Hamilton and Jay, of New York, in their essence apply now as they applied one hundred and twenty years ago.

Nation Ahead of State.

The national convention which framed the constitution, and in which almost all the most eminent of the first generation of American statesmen sat, embodied the theory of the instrument in a resolution, to the effect that the national government should have power in cases where the separate states were incompetent to act with full efficiency, and where the harmony of the United States would be interrupted by the exercise of such individual legislation. The interstate railroad situation is exactly a case in point. There will, of course, be local matters affecting railroads which can best be dealt with by local authority, but as national commercial agents the big interstate railroad ought to be completely subject to national authority. Only thus can we secure their complete subjection to, and control by, a single sovereign, representing the whole people, and capable both of protecting the public and of seeing that the railroads neither inflict nor endure injustice.

Personally I firmly believe that there should be national legislation to control all industrial corporations doing an interstate business, including the control of the output of their securities, but as to these the necessity for federal control is less urgent and immediate than is the case with the railroads. Many of the abuses connected with these corporations will probably tend to disappear now that the government—the public—is gradually getting the upper hand as regards putting a stop to the rebates and special privileges which some of these corporations have enjoyed at the hands of the common carriers. But ultimately it will be found that the complete remedy for these abuses lies in direct and affirmative action by the national government. That there is constitutional power for the national regulation of these corporations I have myself no question.

The Control of Banks.

Two or three generations ago there was just as much hostility to national control of banks as there is now to national control of railroads or of industrial corporations doing an interstate business. That hostility now seems to us ludicrous in its lack of warrant; in like manner, gentlemen, our descendants will regard with wonder the present opposition to giving the national government adequate power to control those great corporations, which it alone can fully, and yet wisely, safely and justly control. Remember also that to regulate the formation of these corporation offers one of the most direct and efficient methods of regulating their activities.

I am not pleading for an extension of constitutional power. I am pleading that constitutional power which already exists shall be applied to new conditions which did not exist when the constitution went in being. I ask that then ational powers already conferred upon the national government by the constitution shall be so used as to bring national commerce and industry effectively under the authority of the federal government and thereby avert industrial chaos. My plea is not to bring about a condition of centralization. It is that the government shall recognize a condition of centralization in a field where it already exists. When the national banking law was passed it represented in reality not centralization, but recognition of the fact that the country had so far advanced that the currency was already a matter of national concern and must be dealt with by the central authority at Washington. So it is with interstate industrialism and especially with the matter of interstate railroad operation today. Centralization has already taken place in the world of commerce and industry. All I ask is that the national government look this fact in the face, accept it as a fact, and fit itself accordingly for a policy of supervision and control over this centralized commerce and industry.

Some Sedalia People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back,
The weariness, the tired feeling,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
Are serious—if neglected.
Dangerous urinary troubles follow.

P. Disqua, living at 1109 South Ohio street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My wife was greatly annoyed with pains in the small of the back just over the regions of the kidneys. At such times she was scarcely able to get up from a chair after sitting, and the secretions from the kidneys were too frequent and were often accompanied by a sensation of scalding. A neighbor advised her to try Doan's Kidney Pills and so we went to the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and got a box. They helped her so much that she kept on taking them until she had used three boxes. Several months have passed since then and there has been no sign of the trouble. Mrs. Disqua feels that she can add her testimony to that of others who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills."

"MARK" HANNA'S PASTOR

KEPT THE METHODISTS FROM CENSURING WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

BECAUSE HE SERVED DINNER WINE

Bit of Heretofore Unwritten History Recalled by the Recent Fairbanks Cocktail Incident in Indiana.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Apropos of the defeat of Vice President Fairbanks for election as delegate to the Quadrennial conference of the M. E. church at Columbus, Ind., last Saturday, it is possible to print a piece of hitherto unwritten history.

The story is about eight years old, but has remained in the custody of a few close friends of the late President McKinley and Senator Hanna.

Possibly Mr. Fairbanks may be able to derive a little consolation from the fact that Mr McKinley had occasion also to be perturbed over the liquor question at a critical period of his public career, although this knowledge doubtless may not [illegible] his present dilemma

Like most of hes predecessors in office, when ever Mr McKinley gave a state diner at the White house wine was served to the guests. The president usually, if not invariably, abstained from drinking it, for the only beverage he seemed to enjoy was a glass of beer, and this he drank but seldom and only after a strenuous day, usually in a campaign

It was a matter of common knowledge, especoially here in Washington, that guests at the White house dinners were not denied wine or whatever else they were accustomed to at similar functions elsewhere. But just prior to the republican national convention in 1900 certain overzealous prohibitionists in the Methodist church determined to use this fact to the political embarrassment of the president

The quadrennial conference of that denomination was about to be held in Chicago and the individuals in question had drafted a set of resolutions condemning the president for permitting wine at his table in the executive mansion.

It was their purpose to introduce the resolution at the conference, but their plan was abandoned, largely in consequence of the activity of Senator Hanna, whom the president had again selected to manage his campaign.

Information [illegible] object reached the senator and he immediately set about to prevent the subject from being discussed at the Methodist convention. He sent Rev. Marion W. Hissey, of Zanesville, Ohio, to Chicago and the latter succeeded in persuading the author of the resolutions and his friends to drop the matter. The question was never brought before the conference.

Mr. Hissey, it will be recalled, was one of Senator Hanna's political lieutenants and did a great deal of effective and quiet work in Ohio and other states. Prior to entering the field of politics he was a Methodist clergyman, and consequently was able to discuss in a fraternal spirit with the malcontents at the Methodist conclave.

It is more than probable that had the resolutions been offered to the conference they would have been voted down, and it is quite certain, also, that the incident would not have prevented McKinley's re-election. At the same time the president was not initiating and embarrassments for his second campaign and was anxious that the temperance question should not be injected into it. Mr. McKinley, by the way, was a Methodist himself, and apparently his critics thought it was the proper function of the church to which he belonged to call him to account for serving wine to his guests.

When the agitation began over the serving of cocktails by the vice president at Indianapolis recently it caused amazement here in Washington. The people of the national capital, particularly those prominent in public or social life, entertain tolerant views on the liquor question. No function is complete unless wine, punch or other form of exhiliarating beverage is served.

As a matter of fact, the ommission of such refreshment would arouse considerable comment and subject the host to some ridicule. If the advocates of temperaince persecuted every public man who either indulged in or served wine in his home few men in congress or in administrative positions in the government would escape their censure. Although the Fairbanks cocktail incident has been regarded humorously from the beginning, nevertheless many men who do not sympathize with the vice president's political aspirations deplore the fact that it has been used to his public embarassment and mortification.

Credit Belongs to Others.

The credit for the Pettis county exhibit that won first premium at the Interstate fair in Kansas City belongs to William Romig, George Shepherd and Albert Cross instead of H. L. Archias. The latter gentleman assisted in arranging the display, but to the trio named belongs the credit for the undertaking, which was carried out so successfully.

PETTIS COUNTY ROADS

JUDGE I. N. DANFORTH MAKES A FEW SUGGESTIONS OF INTEREST.

NOW IS TIME TO GET REAL BUSY

If People of This Section Desire Better Roadways, Now Is the Time Preliminary Steps Should Be Arranged For.

To the Democrat-Sentinel.

In this age of intense business energy and economy it is not wise or the most economical to be satisfied with the earth roadway where there is much travel. There is a demand for roads that are good at all times of the year. The heaviest tax a farmer pays is the tax of mud roads over which he is now compelled to haul his produce. The dirt road is good at times, but is often saturated with water, and, at certain times, after the thawing process, is often impassable for travel.

It is not possible to gravel all the roads in the county, but it would pay to decide on some plan to get the money for a county road fund for building permanent stone roads and to secure for Pettis county all the money available each year from the new state road fund created by the forty-fourth general assembly.

None of this state money will be paid to this or any other county until one-half the cost of some permanent roadway is provided and set apart in the county depositary by the county or road district.

As 5 per cent of the state fund only can be drawn by any county in each year, the amount that could be secured would be perhaps twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars. A part of this money can be secured by funds of the Six-Mile Road district, but some plan should be made to get the money to secure all that is available, either by a direct tax or bonds.

There seems to be no provision for a direct tax to raise money for permanent roads. Under the new law, it requires but 100 taxpaying voters to petition the county court to order an election to vote for bonds to build roads (page 63, new roads law). A plan to raise $25,000 annually for five years, which, with a like sum from the state, would extend each of the eleven roads that are now graveled about three miles out from Sedalia a distance of one or more miles each year further.

At the end of five years this county would have eleven roads eight or ten miles out from the county seat, the value of which could hardly be estimated.

Now is a good time to get ready with the necessary money to secure Pettis county's share of this state road money and build gravel roads to the principal shipping places and county seat, in order that this generation may derive the benefits of good permanent stone roads.

It required some effort in 1884 to get the money to build Pettis county's fine court house. The bonds were issued and the money all paid in twelve years at a very small cost to each citizen. No one is sorry that the effort was made, and all are proud of the court house. Good stone highways leading into the county seat of Pettis for a distance of ten miles from all directions would be worth all the effort and cost.—Very truly, I. M. Danforth.

FAVORS DEEP WATERWAY

President of Illinois Central Says That it Will Not Hurt Roads.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The management of the Ilinois Central railroad has decided to throw its influence in favor of the deep waterway from the great lakes to the gulf. J. T. Harahan, president of the road, stated today that he will go to the deep waterway convention, in Memphis Friday, and give an address strongly favoring the project. He said:

"The railroads have been utterly unable to handle the tremendous traffic offered them during the past few years. In my judgment, they will be unable to handle all the traffic for years to come, so that no matter how many waterways there may be the railroads will not be hurt by reason of loss of tonnagee through them."

GIRL'S BROTHERS HELD

Charge of Aiding in Abandonment of Sister's Child.

Marshall, Mo., Oct. 3.—Sheriff Bacon has arrested Alvin Thornton and Lewis Thornton, brothers of Phoebe Thornton, whose baby they are alleged to have carried to Mount Leonard and placed in a negro's yard one night last week.

The baby was only a few days old, and had it not been for the good care taken of it by the old negro woman at whose home it was left it would have died from exposure and inattention.

The baby is now in this city, having been brought here by Sheriff Bacon and placed in a home where it is being taken care of pending the trial.

The babe was found at sunrise on last Saturday morning by the negro woman, who carried the basket in which it was found into the house and revived the child. An investigation resulted in the arrest of the two Thornton boys.

MR. AUGUST BONDI DEAD

DIED SUDDENLY IN ST. LOUIS, WHILE EN ROUTE TO SALINA, KANSAS.

HAS TWO DAUGHTERS IN SEDALIA

Was a Thirty-Second Degree Mason—Fought Twice for Freedom and Was With Both Kossuth and John Brown.

August Bondi, of Salina, Kas., father of the Messrs. Bondi, and also of Mrs. Julius Cohn and Miss Josie Bondi, of this city, died suddenly in St. Louis Monday, while en route from Galesburg, Ill., where he had been visiting, to Sedalia to visit relatives here. Mr. Bondi was 73 years old and was a thirty-second degree Mason. The remains were taken to Salina for interment, and all of the Bondi stores were closed today.

A St. Louis dispatch to today's Kansas City Journal says: "August Bondi, 78 years old, a thirty-second degree Mason, whose home is in Salina, Kas., dropped dead here today at Fourth and Walnut streets. Heart failure is assigned as the cause, but the coroner will hold an inquest.

"Insurance papers made out to August Bondi, of Salina, were found in the clothing. He wore a Masonic emblem, signifying that he was a Shriner. The body is at the morgue. Two postal cards addressed to Miss May Swanson, Galveston, Texas, were also found in his pocket.

"Bondi was a guest at the Southern hotel, according to the police."

A Salina, Kas., dispatch to the Journal says: "August Bondi, of this city, who died today in St. Louis, fought under Kossuth for the Hungarians and under John Brown that Kansas might be a free state.

"Mr. Bondi was born in Vienna, Austria. In 1848 he was a member of Kossuth's Vienna academic legion in the civil war. The same year he came to the United States, locating at St. Louis, and came to Kansas in 1855.

Although an ardent Freesoiler, for months associated with John Brown, Mr. Bondi was a democrat in politics, and was postmaster of Salina during the second Cleveland administration.

"Mr. Bondi leaves nine children."

F. A. SHERPEY IS MISSING

WAS THEN IN STATE OF DEMENTIA

One of His Sons, Bert Sherpey, Was Formerly a Cigarmaker in Sedalia, but Is Now Living in Denver, Colo.

F. A. Sherpey, for many years a prominent Clinton business man and well known in Sedalia, disappeared from his home in Clinton Sunday night under circumstances that occasion the gravest alarm to family and friends.

For many months past, says Monday's Clinton Democrat, Mr. Sherpey has been failing mentally. After retiring from business, he became afflicted with insomnia that finally unbalanced his mind.

Although in good circumstances, he worried constantly over the future and made threats not only to take his own life, but to kill his wife and daughter.

Again, he would threaten to run away and drown himself and the fear that he would carry his threats into effect caused his wife and daughter to exercise constant watchfulness over his movements.

A week ago he eluded them one night, and after they and the neighbors had searched for him two hours he came home, but threatened the next time he got away he would stay.

During the past few days his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson, from Corsicana, Texas, have been with them; and Sunday his other daughter, Mrs. Dr. Stephens, and children, came down from Calhoun. All visited with country relatives in the afternoon and spent the day pleasantly.

In the evening he seemed quite cheerful, but about 7 o'clock he said he would go upstairs to bed. The family heard him moving about, and supposed he was retiring. It transpires he took off a new suit of clothes he had worn that day and put on some old garments, then quietly slipped from the house.

About 7:30 it occurred to the family to see if he was asleep and going to his room they found it empty.

It had been raining and was extremely dark, but search was again instituted. Not until a careful inspection of the premises was made was it realized that he had carried his threats into effect; but whether he had contented himself with running away or had ended his life, could not be told. In spite of the darkness search was kept up for him all night; and this morning the roads leading from town, the White Swan mill pond, the lakes and river were patrolled, but no trace of him was found.

EX-SHERIFF BLOWN UP

Bomb Outrage in Oregon Results in Mangling Ex-County Official.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 1.—An attempt was made late last night to assassinate former Sheriff Harvey K. Brown, at his home in this city by blowing him up with a dynamite bomb. The ex-sheriff is in a critical condition, with one leg blown off, one arm badly mutilated and from internal injuries suffered.

The outrage is similar in manner of execution to that which resulted in the death of former Governor Frank Steunenberg, of Idaho.

Brown was returning home, and as he opened the gate the bomb exploded, wounding him and blowing in the windows of his house.

The chief of police and county authorities are wholly unable to fathom any cause for the deed, and thus far have not obtained any clew to the perpetrators of the outrage.

ROADS WILL FIGHT RATE

SO SAID ATTORNEY GENERAL HADLEY IN ST. LOUIS MONDAY NIGHT.

LOOKS FOR FURTHER LITIGATION

Railroads in Missouri Will Renew Injunction to Restrain Enforcement of 2-Cents-a-Mile Law.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.— Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, said last night that he had information that the railroads operating in Missouri would renew their injunction proceedings to restrain the state from enforcing the 2-cent rate law.

The expiration of the ninety days during which they agreed to adopt the lower rate, expires Oct. 15, and according to the attorney general, they will fight a further enforcement of the law.

Should they succeed in obtaining an injunction in the supreme court, the fare on all railroads in Missouri will again be raised to three cents a mile.

The 2-cent rate has been in effect under the ninety day agreement, since July 15.

Attorney General Hadley contends that the railroads have been able to operate with a profit under the 2-cent rate law. This is denied by most of the roads.

Vaughn's seed store offers $1,500 for the 50 ears that win the Allerton prize. Still higher bids for it are expected. It is possible for these 50 ears to receive many other lesser prizes on their way up to the grand sweepstakes. Hurrah for King Corn!

VISITING SPECIALISTS from the Cleveland Institute of Medicine and Surgery, legally chartered and incorporated, Cleveland, Ohio, will pay their visit to Sedalia, Mo., and will be at the Hotel Huckins, TUESDAY, Oct. 8th. Tell your sick friends.

One Day Only
9 A. M. TO 7:30 P. M.
FREE

This Institute, composed of a group of regularly graduated physicians and surgeons, licensed, legally chartered and incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio, sends at its own expense these eminent medical specialists in order to introduce the newest methods and discoveries in medicine and surgery, such as the system of treatment under X ray, Violet ray, Finsen ray, Hydrotherapy, Etc., to give to those who call on the above date, consultation, examination, advice and all medicines required to complete a cure, absolutely free. These specialists will diagnose your case and give you the benefit of their skill and medical knowledge.

There is in this case no experimenting or guess work at your expense. You will be told whether you can be cured or not. If your case is curable they will put you under treatment immediately; if incurable they will give you such advice as may prolong your life. Their treatment always gives quick relief, and ultimately positively cures. Being prepared to cope with each individual case the human system is thoroughly cleansed of the disease in a natural and direct manner, and improvement is noticed at once; even the worst cases are treated without any inconvenience to the patient or the pursuing of his or her daily vocation.

If you are improving under your family physician, do not come and take up their valuable time, as they absolutely refuse to treat any one who is under the care of the local physicians. They wish besides to give each patient plenty of time and their undivided attention, but can not listen to long stories not pertaining to your trouble. They have discarded the old methods and remedies used for ages by the medical world, and which it would be folly to depend upon any longer, for they are not known to cure, as thousands die, depending on them for relief. The following list of diseases only are taken under treatment, to-wit: Diseases of the Nervous System, Heart, Stomach, Lungs, Kidneys, Catarrh, (purulent or dry), Consumption, Epilepsy, Deafness, Diseases of Women, Tumors, Pseudo Cancers, Piles, of a Chronic Nature only. They treat Deafness by an entirely new method, and hearing in many cases is restored at once. Catarrh in all its varied forms, like other diseases if once taken under treatment, is cured permanently to remain so and to never return. It matters not whom you have seen, or with whom treated, do not fail to call, as a visit will cost you nothing, and may restore you to health, or even save or prolong your life, as thousands of persons will testify by unassailable testimonials in all parts of the country. If you suspect Kidney Trouble, bring a two ounce bottle of your Urine for chemical and microscopical analysis.

REMEMBER:—The free offer is during this visit only, and will not be repeated. Persons commencing treatment upon their future visits will be required to pay, but not one cent will be asked from those commencing treatment during this visit for any medicine necessary to effect a cure, irrespective of your position in life, or the number of those who come on above date. Whensoever, or by whom wanted, a positive guarantee to cure will be given under their system of treatment. Those having long standing and complicated disease, who have failed to get well and become discouraged, are particularly invited to call.

NOTICE: — Married ladies without their HUSBANDS, and minors without their FATHERS, will positively not be admitted to consultation unless accompanied by one of their local physicians.

Office Hours: 9 A. M. to 7:30 P. M.

THE SALE OF R. G. MILLER

IT WAS HELD FOUR MILES EAST OF HUGHESVILLE ON TUESDAY.

HAD A VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE

Satisfactory Prices Were Realized—The Aggregate Ran Into the Thousands—A Fine Dinner Was Served.

R. G. Miller held a closing out sale on the Scott farm, four miles east of Houstonia, Tuesday, and had a satisfactory sale.

From daylight to about 9 o'clock there was quite a fall of rain, and the outlook for a good attendance was gloomy, but at that hour the clouds passed over, the sun shone brightly, and people from the surrounding country gathered in. From 10:30, when the salesmen opened the day's work, the attendance was good, all being liberal buyers.

At noon the ladies of the Hughesville Christian church served a splendid set dinner, which was enjoyed to the fullest extent, and the ladies had $40 in their treasury at the close, which demonstrated that their spread was liberally patronized.

The sale was mostly of stock, all of good grade, and in good condition, and sold promptly at good prices, especially horses, mules and hogs.

A 7-year-old brood mare sold for $104, while an 8-year-old went up to $148; a span of 2-year-old mules brought $262.50; a 5-year-old saddle and harnes mare, after much spirited bidding, went to Mr. John Schoundelmeier for $200; a 2-year-old Limestone Artist stallion brought $206; a 2-year-old Wilkes stallion, after a spirited contest, went to Jason Chamberlain for $325; a driving mare, 4 years old, was secured by Stone McClure, of Hughesville, for $190, and all other fillevs and young stock brought good prices.

The hogs, a fine lot of Duroc-Jersey and Poland China, thoroughbred and high grade, attracted great attention, and all sold with a rush at prices ranging from 8 to 10 cents per pound.

Cols. C. J. and Kemp Hieronymus conducted the sale in their usual energetic manner and made all offerings bring prices satisfactory to the proprietor, and with credit to themselves.

Mr. Scott, of the Hughesville Mercantile company, had charge of the books, and made a prompt second to the hustling salesmen. The aggregate of the sale could not be learned last night, but it will run well up into the thousands.

MISTAKE COST HIS LIFE

Farmer Tried to Break Into Another Man's House.

Zonesville, Ohio, Oct. 2.—John Wilson, a farmer of Meigsville township, Morgan county, was mistaken for a burglar by Earl White early yesterday morning and instantly killed.

Wilson had spent the evening at McConnellsville and was intoxicated when he started home. In this condition he stopped at the home of Johnson Lighthizer, a farmer, evidently mistaking it for his own home.

He was trying to force an entrance into the front door when White, a farm hand, shot him dead. Wilson leaves a wife and child.

Hard to See a Good Thing.

Railroad managers are generally considered a pretty shrewd lot of business men, but they lack farsightedness.

It needs a club to drive it into their heads that lower rates bring more business and more business means a larger income.

Two months' trial of the 2-cent passenger rate in Minnesota has increased railroad receipts over a million dollars in that time, this in spite of the prophecy that it would mean a heavy loss to the roads.

Will Run Shuttle Trains.

Official notice was received by the Missouri Pacific and Katy late yesterday afternoon that each road would operate on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week two trains to and from the state fair grounds.

Should the crowds on the other days of the fair be such that the street car company cannot accomodate them, the railroads will likely operate trains then also.

SPANKED FOR MASHING

Pretty Girls Duck Ogler and Then Use Barrel Staves.

Corby, Pa., Oct. 2.—For having an exaggerated notion of his charms, Walenty Kapuskic, of Dunkirk, N. Y., is under arrest at this place.

It is charged that he took a position on a prominent Dunkirk thoroughfare and ogled all women who passed. Finally two handsome young women seized the young man and threw him into Goose creek. When he came to the surface they ducked him again and again. Then, seizing a barrel stave, one held him while the other spanked the struggling chap.

When an officer took the man to the police station the ladies were heartily cheered.

HAD TO RETURN HOME

Col. Robert Mowbray Had to Resign a Good Position.

(Thursday's Daily.)

Col. Robert Mowbray, who left here about two weeks ago for Springfield, Mo., to accept the management of the steam heating department of the Springfield Gas and Electric company, has given up the place and returned here, owing to rheumatism again attacking him.

Mr. Mowbray has been ailing with rheumatism for a long time. When he was offered the excellent position at Springfield he was doubtful if his health would permit him to accept it, but he decided to try, nevertheless, and accepted.

The first day Mr. Mowbray began to acquaint himself with the plant, and the following two days he was confined to his bed. Out of seven days at Springfield he was bedfast four days and was compelled to throw up the job.

DINNER WAS HISTORIC

THAT GIVEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON STEAMER ALTON LAST NIGHT.

THE SHIP CHANNEL GIVEN IMPETUS

Governors Present Pledged Support to the Project—President Was Received With Great Enthusiasm This Morning.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 3.—When President Roosevelt stepped ashore here at 9 o'clock this morning he manifested every evidence of having spent a comfortable night aboard the steamboat Mississippi. He retired about midnight and little occurred to disturb his rest except two or three demonstrations on shore, which, though violent while they lasted, were necessarily of a brief duration.

When he arrived here he was greeted by a great crowd and was given an ovation from the time he landed until he departed for the south.

The president last night was the guest at a dinner on the steamer Alton given by the Business Men's league of St. Louis. The dinner lasted until midnight and was regarded as an event of rare occurrence. When the president finished speaking several men were heard to remark that it would become historic.

The scheme of a ship channel from the Gulf to the Lakes received an impetus that will do much toward insuring an earnest pressing of that enterprise. Among the fifteen governors present were Hoch, of Kansas; Folk, of Missouri, and Frantz, of Oklahoma.

The president endorsed the general principle involved in the scheme for the creation of a ship channel, and the speakers who followed him pledged their support in furtherance of the enterprise.

WILL TRY CALEB POWERS

J. S. Morris, Formerly Prosecutor in Oldham Circuit, Appointed.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 3.—Judge J. S. Morris, of Oldham county, was yesterday appointed special judge of the Scott circuit court to try Caleb Powers, the former secretary of state, who is charged with complicity in the murder of Governor William E. Goebel.

Judge Morris was for several years state attorney for the Oldham circuit, and is considered one of the ablest lawyers in Kentucky.

Dispatches from Lexington say that the Gentry woman, who was indicted in connection with the alleged attempt to induce prisoners in the penitentiary to testify that Youtsey had confessed that he shot Goebel, has suddenly disappeared.

This will be Powers' fourth trial. It is charged that he conspired to cause the death of Goebel.

Powers and Woman Protest.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—Caleb Powers, now in Georgetown jail, awaiting his fourth trial for the murder of William Goebel, when told of the charge in the indictment for subornation of perjury by the Franklin county jury, said:

"It is an infamous outrage. I am ready and demand a trial on these false charges. I may give out a written statement later."

Mrs. Jennie Gentry, who is also indicted, brands as false the statements that she with Powers, Rogerson and Attorney Benton conspired to fasten the killing of Goebel on Henry A. Youtsey.

Both Powers and Gentry have telegraphed the state's attorney, demanding immediate trial.

Dead Man Identified.

The body of the man found dead near the Moreau tunnel on the Missouri Pacific railroad was fully identified Sunday evening by Mrs. John Varner, of Sedalia, an aunt of the deceased, who came here with a friend for that purpose, says the Jefferson City Tribune.

It is that of Thomas C. Varner. Mrs. Varner says the man was about 30 years of age, and that his mother lives in Tuscumbia, Miller county.

Topeka in Western League.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 1.—Herman Crow, secretary of the Topeka baseball club, returned from Kansas City yesterday afternoon, where he was in conference with President Shively, of the Western association. Crow says that Shively is disposed to let Topeka go to the Western league for a money consideration.

Now, at this day comes the plaintiff herein, by his attorneys, Barnett & Barnett, and files his petition and affidavit, alleging among other things that defendants are not residents of the state of Missouri, and cannot be served with the ordinary process of law in this state;

Whereupon it is ordered by the clerk of said court in vacation that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is to have the plaintiff's record title perfected in and to the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section fifteen (15), township forty-seven (47), range twenty-two (22) in Pettis county, Missouri, west of the fifth principal meridian, and to have the title decreed to be in plaintiff by limitation, and to have all record and apparent title of the defendants divested out of them and vested in the plaintiff. And it is alleged in the petition that there are persons to-wit: The unknown heirs of Joseph Davis, who are interested in the subject matter of the petition whose names he can not insert herein because they are unknown to him, but the interest of said unknown heirs is derived from Joseph Davis, they as such heirs having inherited whatever interest said Joseph Davis had at time of his death, in said land, the said Joseph Davis having entered this land from the United States, and the deed by which he conveyed it to the party under whom plaintiff claims being defective in that the description and acknowledgement are defective, and unless the said defendants, Joseph Davis, Rebecca Davis and the unknown heirs of Joseph Davis be and appear at this court at the next December term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house, in the city of Sedalia, in said county, on the first Monday of December next, and on or before the first day of said term, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

MAE WOOD SUES AGAIN

WANTS A DIVORCE FROM THOS. C. PLATT, SENATOR FROM NEW YORK.

ALLEGES COMMON LAW MARRIAGE

Action is Sequel to Woman's Long Pursuit—Branded Blackmail—Jury Trial is Demaded By the Plaintiff.

New York, Oct. 1.—Thomas C. Platt, United States senator for New York state, has been made the defendant in a suit for divorce brought in the supreme court, this county, by Mae Catherine Wood, the stenographer who has at various times made charges to the newspapers in which she accused the aged senator of having deluded her into marriage and then deserted her.

Mae C. Wood's allegations concerning her relations with Senator Platt before he married Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway in 1901 have been given great publicity. But apparently she and her lawyer, Joseph D. Lee, of this city, thought it better to keep the divorce suit in comparative concealment. Consequently the first court exhibition of the Wood claim came yesterday, when John B. Stanchfield was on hand as special counsel for Senator Platt, retained by the firm of O'Brien, Boardman & Platt, to defend the Platt interests.

Mr. Stanchfield could not get away from the fact, however, that the motion before Justice Seabury, in the supreme court, was in the case of Mae Platt vs. Thomas C. Platt. The motion was made by Lawyer Lee for leave to frame issues so that the case could be admitted to a jury. Trial before a jury would mean that everything connected with the case would be made known.

Mr. Stanchfield, opposing the motion, denounced the whole litigation as blackmail. He said that the one and sole defense of the senator would be that no marriage ceremony had ever taken place between Thomas C. Platt and Mae Catherine Wood, and that, therefore, any suit for divorce was out of the question.

It has never been denied that Senator Platt and Miss Wood knew one another pretty well before the senator made Mrs. Janeway his wife, but he has always denied that his relations with Miss Wood have been other than those of employer and employe.

The Wood-Platt pursuit has lasted for several seasons. It began shortly after the senator married Mrs. Janeway, when Mae Wood came out with statements to the effect that she had been acknowledged by the senator as his common law wife.

In the past Mae C. Wood has threatened to bring suits against Senator Platt for separation, divorce and so on, and she has even gone so far as to terrify Secretary Loeb into taking through expresses instead of local trains, which might stop at stations where he might be served with papers to appear as a witness in her litigation.

In her present suit she alleges that Senator Platt took her for his wife in 1901, and that since that time he has lived in marital relations with another woman. She accuses the senator of adultery, which is the only cause for divorce in this state.

Judge Seabury reserved decision on the motion, which was hardly argued at all, for an order framing the issues to be submitted to the jury. The issues involves merely the fact of Platt's relations with the woman acknowledged as his wife, but they depend entirely on a proof by Miss Wood that her allegation of marriage to Platt is true.

Late yesterday Mr. Platt's lawyers got an order requiring Miss Wood to gove a bill of particulars showing just what her claims of marriage are based on. That order is returnable October 3.

C. A. DYER OWES BIG SUM

ONCE OWNED HOTEL LE GRANDE AND SEVERAL FARMS IN PETTIS COUNTY.

HAVE TO PAY HEIRS $297,363

The Defendant, a Real Estate Man, Excepts to Finding, and Says the Judgment Is Entirely Too Large.

C. A. Dyer, who formerly owned Hotel LeGrande building in Sedalia and several farms in Pettis county, was written of as follows in the St. Louis Times of Monday afternoon:

Judgment for $297,363.88 against Charles A. Dyer has been recommended by former Judge O'Neill Ryan, who was appointed by Judge McDonald, of the circuit court, to hear the issues in a suit for an accounting against Dyer brought by the beneficiaries of the estate of Orville E. McIlvaine.

Dyer was trustee of the estate from 1885 to 1906, succeeding the late Henry M. Bryan, who resigned. He is in the real estate business in St. Louis and lives at Glendale, Mo.

The plaintiffs in the suit which was filed in July, 1906, are Mrs. Minerva A. Muschany, a daughter of McIlvaine; her husband, John B. Muschany, and their children, Jeannetta, Firmen D., Clarence J., Minerva B. and J. Euel Muschany. The Muschany family lives in St. Charles county, Mo.

McIlvaine, who died Jan. 17, 1880, left his estate in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Muschany, she to receive the income as long as she lived. At her death the income, according to the will, goes to the children. The life of the trust was until the youngest child became eighteen years of age.

When Dyer took charge of the estate it includes personal property worth $74,642.74, and realty in St. Francis county, Mo., and Macoupin county, Ill., and Lawrence county, Ark. According to one statement by the trustee in reference to his management of the McIlvaine property, he charged himself with items aggregating $634,038.12. He took credit for disbursements aggregating $609,908.37, leaving a cash balance of $24,129.75. A recapitulation showed the total receipts to have been $799,711.07, and disbursements $189,802.70, leaving $189,802.70 due the estate.

Although Mrs. Muschany was entitled to the entire net income of the estate, she received not more than $2,000 a year from the trustee, according to her testimony before the referee. She stated that she had received no information from Dyer concerning the condition of the estate, as to sales and investments, and that since 1889 he failed to render a statement.

The woman said that she had implicit confidence in the integrity of Dyer. She was led to believe by him, she said, that she was not entitled to over $2,000 a year, according to her father's will. On account of Dyer's mismanagement Mrs. Muschany said she had lost faith in mankind.

It was alleged in the petition that Dyer had abused the discretion vested in him in the matter of sales of real estate and other property, and of re-investing the proceeds. He did this, it was claimed, without proper regard for the welfare of the estate and for the purpose of charging commissions.

In his finding Referee Bryan states: "From the evidence it is clear that the defendant treated the trust as though it were his personal affair. He mingled the moneys derived from the assets of the estate with his private funds, and later with the funds of a real estate company, in which he was the heaviest stockholder, swelling his and its funds for their own purposes.

"He checked upon the funds as his own or later as the company's. He never had the trust assets so earmarkedor set apart that they could have been distinguished from his own personality or that belonging to his clients in the real estate business. Nor did he keep a separate set of books for this trust. This was his method, or, rather, lack of method."

The referee says that from the outset Dyer used the property of the estate for his own purposes, giving to Mrs. Muschany only a part of the annual income. The attention of the court is directed to Dyer's original answer in the suit for accounting in which he claimed that the estate owed him $8,000, and to his amended answer admitting that he owed the estate $25,129.75.

Judge Ryan recommends that Dyer be denied compensation for his services as trustee on the theory that compensation for such services is allowed only tto one who faitthfuly performs them.

Exceptions to the referee's report have been filed by the defendant, who claims that the judgment recommended is excessive.

When Dyer assumed charge of the trusteeship he furnished a bond of $150,000, with August Gehner and Thomas B. Dyer, who has since died, as sureties.

The law firm of Dawson & Garvin and Attorney Edward T. Eversole represents plaintiffs, and the firm of Carter, Collins & Jones is counsel for Dyer.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC ENGINEERS WILL NOT GO ON STRIKE.

MUTUAL CONCESSIONS ARE MADE

General Manager A. W. Sullivan Makes the Announcement—Says Labor Commissioner Neill Effected the Settlement.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

There is to be no strike of engineers on the Missouri Pacific, as will be seen by the following from the Globe-Democrat of Tuesday morning:

General Manager Sullivan of the Missouri Pacific late last evening made the announcement that through the mediation of Labor Commissioner Neill an understanding had been reached with the officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in regard to all points at issue concerning the locomotive employes of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain.

The commissioner for ten days past had directed his efforts for an adjustment of all the differences between the employes and the management. Conferences were held daily on both sides and mutual concessions were made, each side, however, retaining its prestige. The result is satisfactory to the management and the employes.

Today there will be a meeting for formal ratification of the terms of the agreement, and Labor Commissioner Neill will return at once to Washington.

He came here at the solicitation of the Missouri Pacific management and his mediation was invoked under the provisions of the Erdman act. He was courteously treated on both sides and the whole situation was carefully reviewed, covering all the points in dispute, particulars of which have already been given.

General Manager Sullivan said last evening that the labor commissioner was entitled to great credit for the intelligent, patient, considerate and skillful manner in which he had conducted the negotiations, and the agreement reached will now be worked out in detail with the view of placing it in operation as soon as possible. The adjustment committee and the management will at once get together and perfect the schedules which were interrupted by the points at issue.

Commissioner of Labor Neill refused to make any statement last night regarding the troubles of the Missouri Pacific engineers that he has been trying to adjust for the past ten days.

W. S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, also refused to say whether an agreement had been reached or not. Commissioner Neill will leave for the east today.

The Republic had the following paragraph: "Mr. Neill took up the matters in the dispute with Vice President C. S. Clarke and General Manager A. W. Sullivan, and then with W. S Stone, grand chief, and M. W. Cadle, assistant grand chief, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The independent conference was followed by meetings between Messrs. Clarke and Sullivan, for the company, and Messrs. Stone and Cadle, for the engineers."

SEDALIA IS IN THE RACE

WOULD LIKE TO BE PERMANENT CAMP OF THE STATE NATIONAL GUARD.

SELECTION WILL SOON BE MADE

Three Cities Have Announced as Candidates for Adjutant General and Staff's Consideration.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 1.—In the near future the National Guards of Missouri will be provided with permanent grounds and a rifle range.

The matter is now under consideration by Adjutant General De Armond and his military staff.

Rivalry has developed among the cities of the state to get the prize. The cities now in the contest are Jefferson City, Sedalia and Nevada, and, no doubt, several others will present claims later.

Under a congressional act, known as the "Dick bill,' the national government is authorized to purchase permanent rifle ranges and encampment grounds for the various states supporting a national guard organization.

The method of obtaining the site is for the adjutant general and his military staff to select suitable grounds and recommend them to the governor.

Then, if the governor approves the selection, the site will be certified to the war department. After an investigation, if grounds were wisely chosen, the government will pay for the site.

The First regiment, at St. Louis, is making preparations to establish a rifle range in St. Louis county.

A Jefferson City dispatch to the Kansas City Journal says:

"Sedalia only is active. That city has selected what is deemed to be a suitable place and will offer it to the government at $75 per acre.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says: "Fully 80 per cent of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds it beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it, or when you eat the wrong kind of food, the digestive organs cannot possibly do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help; it demands help, and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

Held on a $750 Bond.

Louis I. Thornton, a Sedalian, who was arrested here by Sheriff Sprecher last week to answer to a charge of felony at Marshall, has been held to the Saline county criminal court on a $750 bond.

MRS. J. R. BARRETT DEAD

THE END CAME AT 1:10 O'CLOCK P. M. SUNDAY, OF HEART TROUBLE.

WAS DOWN TOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

Had Resided in Sedalia Thirty Years, and Was Prominent in Church and Social Circles—The Funeral Tomorrow.

(Monday's Daily.)

Mrs. Matilda Barrett, better known to her intimate friends as Mrs. "Tippie" Neil Barrett, widow of Mr. J. R. Barrett, died suddenly of heart trouble at her apartments at the John L. Hail residence, 423 West Broadway, at 1:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon, aged 63 years.

The news of her demise came as a severe shock to a legion of friends, only a few of whom were aware that she was afflicted with heart ailment, which had caused her to remark on numerous occasions to her closest acquaintances that she never retired at night without arranging all of her affairs, as she did not know what minute she might be stricken.

Saturday night Mrs. Barrett, in her usual happy frame of mind, was down town shopping, and made no complaint of being ill. She returned home early, and, on retiring, soon fell asleep. She slept until 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, when she awoke with a severe pain in the region of her heart.

She called her grandson, Barrett Numeri, a High school student, from an adjoining room, and the latter summoned Mesdames J. L. Hall and J. Smith, who did all possible for the patient, but to no purpose.

A few minutes later Dr. D. T. Abell was called and administered an opiate, which brought temporary relief, but during the forenoon Mrs. Barrett's condition became more serious, and at the hour stated she passed peacefully away, without having regained consciousness.

No lady in Sedalia was better known or was held in higher esteem than Mrs. "Tippie" Barrett. She was a member of Calvary Episcopal church, the Women's Guild of the church, the Sorosis club and the Rocking Chair club, and was prominent in church and club work. No more charming hostess ever dwelt in Sedalia, and during the life of Mr. Barrett the famous old Barrett home was the scene of many delightful functions.

Not only was Mrs. Barrett all that is enumerated above, but her deeds of charity, always without ostentation, were many, and in households without number where she had assisted in distress the news of her unexpected demise will be received with deepest sorrow.

Mrs. Barrett was a daughter of Stephen T. Neil, a prominent citizen of Lafayette county, who resided near Higginsville and who died some years ago. She was twice married, the name of her first husband being McClaughrey.

On November 28, 1877, Mrs. McClaughrey was united in wedlock to Mr. Barrett, a widower with two sons, Richard B. and Jonathan F., who are still living, and one daughter, Anna, who died in 1892. No children were born of Mr. Barrett's second marriage.

In the prime of beautiful young womanhood Miss Anna became the bride of Charles E. Emmert, but died in childbirth, leaving the baby boy, Barrett, to the father and grandparents to rear.

Business required that Mr. Emmert, the father, reside elsewhere, and the infant son was given into the keeping of his grandparents. Mr. Barrett died August 10, 1894, and since then Mrs. Barrett had had the rearing of her grandson in charge, doing her part truly well—in fact, no mother could have done more for a child. It is not strange that all who knew Mrs. Barrett are bowed in sorrow at her demise.

The funeral services will be held at Calvary church at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the rector, Rev. Douglass Atwill, officiating.

The music will be in charge of Miss Agnes Scott Longan, who will sing, "Face to Face." A quartette consisting of Miss Longan and Mesdames C. H. Bard, J. H. Rodes and Lillie MacGugin will sing, "Lead, Kindly Light," and the vested choir of the church will sing, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

The following friends of the family will serve as pallbearers: Grant Crawford, J. D. Donnohue, C. C. Evans, W. B. Shirk, Ernest W. Lamy and W. M. Johns.

Not Until December.

Manager Olendorf has found it impossible to play Joe Howard and Mabel Barrison for a return engagement at the new Sedalia theater on Oct. 7, on account of previous bookings, but feels sure that he will be able to get them here again some time in December.

THE DEMI MONDE QUEEN

THE DAUGHTER OF A MILLIONAIRE

Suit Is Filed by Mrs. Horner for Divorce, and Horner Sues Her Father for Damages of $100,000.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—Mrs. T. Mitchell Horner, also known as Mrs. Jack Horner, one of the most noted women in Atlanta and Baltimore society, has entered suit here for absolute divorce.

The single allegation on which the suit is based is infidelity on the part of Horner. Mr. and Mrs. Horner were married in Baltimore in 1896 and soon after moved to Atlanta.

Mrs. Horner alleges that her husband has spent a large part of his time with Marie Law and other women, adding that the defendant gave money to Marie Law besides paying her bills.

Marie Law is known as the "Queen of the Demi Monde" in Atlanta. No alimony is asked, as Mrs. Horner has all the property. Her wealth is estimated at over $400,000.

Mrs. Horner is a daughter of Captain and Mrs. Isaac Emerson, of Baltimore. Emerson is rated as a multimillionaire, having grown rich from the sale of a seltzer. Horner's family stands well in Baltimore. He is a graduate of Harvard.

Mrs. Horner left her husband May 14. Three weeks ago Horner entered suit in Baltimore against his wife's parents for $100,000, alleging that they had alienated her affections.

John L. Buckley left Sunday afternoon for a two days' sojourn in Kansas City, where he will consult his former physician regarding the best point in the west or southwest at which to spend the winter, in the hope of recuperating his health, which has prevented his attending to business for several months past.

Mr. Buckley's preference is San Antonio, Texas, but he will be guided largely by the advice of the physician who treated him while he was a patient at St. Margaret's hospital in Kansas City, Kas., the past summer.

No resident of Sedalia has a larger circle of friends than "Johnnie" Buckley, and one and all will join the Democrat-Sentinel is the wish that he may return in the spring with his health perfectly restored.

MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED

MAGNIFICENT MAUSALEUM TO PRESIDENT McKINLEY NOW A PUBLIC POSSESSION.

THOUSANDS WITNESSED THE EVENT

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The weather conditions here were favorable for a successful day for the dedication of the McKinley memorial. Thousands of persons poured into the city yesterday and early today to witness the ceremonies, and the city is literally filled.

President Roosevelt and party arrived shortly before noon, and the president was greeted with cheers.

Judge William R. Day was on the program for the first speech and he was followed by the president.

The President's Address.

We have gathered together today to pay our meed of respect and affection to the memory of William McKinley, who as president won a place in the hearts of the American people such as but three or four of all the presidents of this country have ever won. He was of singular uprightness and purity of character, alike in the public and private life; a citizen who loved peace, he did his duty faithfully and well for four years of war when the honor of the nation called him to arms.

As congressman, as governor of his state, and finally as president, he rose to the foremost place among our statesmen, reaching a position which would satisfy the keenest ambition; but he never lost that simple and thoughtful kindness toward every human being, great or small, lofty or humble, with whom he was brought in contact, which so endeared him to our people.

He had to grapple with more serious and complex problems than any president since Lincoln, and yet, while meeting every demand of statesmanship, he continued to live a beautiful and touching family life, a life very healthy for this nation to see in its foremost citizen; and now the woman who walked in the shadow ever after his death, the wife to whom his loss was a calamity more crushing than it could be to any other human being, lies beside him here in the same sepulcher.

An Appropriate Inscription.

There is a singular appropriateness in the inscription on his monument. Mr. Cortelyou, whose relations with him were of such close intimacy, gives me the following information about it: On the president's trip to the Pacific slope, in the spring of 1901, President Wheeler, of the University of California, conferred the degree of LL D. upon him in words so well chosen that they struck the fastidious taste of John Hay, then secretary of state, who wrote and asked for a copy of them from President Wheeler. On the receipt of this copy he sent the following letter to President McKinley, a letter which now seems filled with a strange and unconscious prescience:

"Dear Mr. President: President Wheeler sent me the inclosed at my request. You will have the words in more permanent shape. They seem to me remarkably well chosen, and stately and dignified enough to serve—long hence, please God—as your epitaph. Yours faithfully—John Hay."

"University of California, Office of the President. By authority vested in me by the regents of the University of California, I confer the degree of Doctor of Laws upon William McKinley, president of the United States, a statesman singularly gifted to unite the discordant forces of the government and mold the diverse purposes of men toward progressive and salutary action, a magistrate whose poise of judgment has been tested and vindicated in a sucession of national emergencies; good citizen, brave soldier, wise executive, helper and leader of men, exemplar to his people of the virtues that build and conserve the state, society, and the home.

"Berkeley, May 15, 1901."

Possessed of Rare Gift.

It would be hard to imagine an epitaph which a good citizen would be more anxious to deserve or one which would more hastily describe the qualities of that great and good citizen whose life we here commemorate. He possessed to a very extraordinary degree the gift of uniting discordant forces and securing from them harmonious action which told for good government.

From purposes not merely diverse, but bitterly conflicting, he was able to secure healthful action for the good of the state. In both poise and judgment he rose level to the several emergencies he had to meet as leader of then nation, and like all men with the root of true greatness in them he grew to steadily larger stature under the stress of heavy responsibilities. He was a good citizen and a brave soldier, a chief executive whose wisdom entitled him to the trust which he received throughout the nation.

He was not only a leader of men, but preeminently a helper of men;

TWO WRECKS ON FRISCO

ENGINE OF METEOR JUMPED TRACK WHILE ON DOWN GRADE AT DIXON.

ENGINEER AND MAIL CLERK KILLED

At Anaconda Passenger Run Into a Freight Train and Badly Injured Two Mail Clerks—None of Passengers Seriously Hurt

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The fast train on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad known as the Meteor, due in St. Louis at 11:30 a. m., was derailed and the cars burned on Dixon Hill, near Dixon, Mo., at 7 o'clock this morning.

According to official advices received at the general offices here, two persons were killed, one seriously injured and many passengers badly bruised, but none killed.

The dead are Engineer Chambers, of Springfield, Mo., and Mail Clerk Frank F. Crissy, of St. Louis, and the seriously injured is Fireman Stockstill of Springfield.

The engine and forward part of the train overturned, the cars taking fire and being entirely consumed. A special train bearing physicians, nurses and fire fighting apparatus was sent from Rolla.

Dixon Hill is a steep grade, sixteen miles in length, and the engine jumped the track while speeding down this grade, tearing up a section of the track and ditching several cars.

Head-End Collision Also.

Anaconda, Mo., Sept 30.—Two mail clerks were injured, two locomotives demolished and a number of head of cattle killed in a head-end collision late last night near here between a southbound passenger train and a freight on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad.

Mail Clerks C. E. Harrel and H. J. Chamberlain, both of St. Louis, were injured, but will recover.

Beyond a severe shaking up, none of the passengers was hurt.

The freight was attempting to make a siding at Anaconda on short time, when the passenger dashed around the curve at full speed, striking the freight.

ATTORNEYS GENERAL MEETING

Twenty-Two Legal Advisers of States Gather in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The convention of attorneys general, which was called August 12 by a committee of which Attorney General Hadley, of Missouri, was the chairman, convened here today with attorneys general and assistant attorneys general present from twenty-two states.

The purpose is for a general discussion of the anti-trust laws, railroad rate regulation and state rights, and it is deemed probable that a permanent organization will be effected.

Sedalia Student Honored.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 30.—Karl McVey, son of L. A. McVey, of Sedalia, who is studying electrical engineering at the University of Missouri, has been elected a member of the Tau Beta Pi. This is an honorary fraternity organized at Lehigh university in 1886. The eligibles are chosen from those students who have attained a certain degree of scholarship in the engineering department. Mr. McVey is a graduate of the Sedalia High school class of 1904.

"KISSING CASE" SEQUEL

SEVERAL "STATEMENTS" DENIED

The Case of Orville Cornine, Who Was Charged With an Assault on William M. Dial, of the "Lost Corner."

Justice A. D. McCorkle, before whom Orville Cornine was recently arraigned in the "Lost Corner," charged with an assault on William M. Dial, growing out of the latter's kissing Cornine's sweetheart at a social at the Cornine home, requests the publication of the following in the Democrat-Sentinel in explanation of why Cornine was not held for the criminal court:

Nelson, Mo., Sept. 28, 1907. Sedalia Democrat-Sentinel: Some one has favored me with marked copies of the above styled paper and Sedalia Daily Capital, dated Sept. 20, 1907.

The marked articles refer to a case recently brought before this court, and, respectively under the headings as follows: "Proceeding Was Queer," pape 6, and "Didn't Hold Cornine," page 3. Evidently, both articles were elaborated by the same party; or, at all events, by persons of similar mental animus.

These articles, unanswered, would create a very decided impression against me, who is the "Justice McCorkle" mentioned.

The public would not be unreasonable in deciding against me if I failed to say something in reply.

Hence, first I shall mention the untruths presenetd without particular reference to which article contained them.

(a) The "justice" did not enclose with his letter an information charging Orville Cornine with assault with intent to kill, but the affidavit of William M. Dial, charging simply assault and battery.

Before the day set for the hearing, and, in fact, before any paper was filed in this court, said William M. Dial and son visited the prosecuting attorney and a new affidavit, charging felonious assault with intent to kill, was forwarded in place of the first affidavit mentioned. The evidence showing severe wound with metal knuckles" was a very cloudy showing, indeed.

In that "quite a speech, not understood by the state's representatives," a resume of the testimony was made, and the reasons plainly pointed out why I could not consider the probability of the use of metal knuckles established, and the possibilities thereof rather slim.

The court admits denouncing the occurrence as "very reprehensible," but the superlatives — the most outrageous, worst, etc., are reserved for some other of the five cases on docket at this time from this "Lost Corner."

(b) As to the statement that the defendant, his sweetheart and parents dined at the judge's home "prior to the opening of the case," I have this to say: If the writer of these articles or their informant attempted to say that they dined there on the day of the trial, they are once more mistaken, and said what is and was untrue.

The father of the defendant was invited to dinner, because the "justice" was informed that he, being sick, had taken little food that day, and knowing his entire life to have been honorable and blameless, there could be no reason for suddenly refusing, under the distressing circumstances of his presence, the humanity and courtesy of offering needed food to a sick neighbor. But, as said, he declined and did not eat, even after being persuaded to take a seat at the table. And there were eight persons sitting at the table and certainly witnessed Mr. Cornine's withdrawal from the table, among whom were the state's attorney.

Now, I do hope that this shall suffice to prevent belief in the wholesale misrepresentation of these articles, and "Justice McCorkle" will endeavor to suppress the little suspicion arising in his mind, like a cloud of smoke, that an effort is made to give him a little cold or hot Steel(e) and make him appear in the public eye as being very Dow(dy). Respectfully, A. R. McCORKLE.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DAN WRAY WAS HANGED

MORGAN COUNTY LAWYER SAYS IT IS AN EASY MANNER OF DEATH.

OCCURRED DURING THE CIVIL WAR

Was Interrogated Regarding Whereabouts of Confederates, but He Could Not Answer and the Hanging Followed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 1.—Dan Wray, of Versailles, who frequently visits Jefferson City as a member of the board of managers of the state training school for boys, located at Boonville, has had one experience through which, it is likely, no other Missourian has ever gone and lived to tell about it. He has been hanged.

Mr. Wray doesn't often talk about the matter, though he declares that if there were no disgrace attached to meeting death by that route he would prefer it to any other.

Toward the close of the civil war, as Mr. Wray tells the story, he was captured by some troops in Morgan county, where he then lived, and where he has since made his home.

He was questioned about a body of Confederates, who were supposed to be concealed in the vicinity. His ignorance on the subject was so marked that his inquisitors were thoroughly impressed with the belief that he knew a great deal more about the matter than he seemed disposed to tell.

They undertook, therefore, to frighten him into making disclosures. Finding that he would not talk, his captors procured a rope, fitted a noose about his neck and suspended him from the limb of a tree, then riding away.

Mr. Wray declares that the sensation was not a painful one at all after the first choking spell passed away, and that the last thing he remembered was looking at the sun. He admired its beauty and had a vivid impression that he was gazing upon it for the last time. Then he became unconscious.

By some means the rope was broken, and he fell to the ground. When he recovered he made his way to the home of his mother. There he told of his experience, and when he talks about it at the present time he insists that hanging is an easy way to depart this life.

MACHINERY SCALPS GIRL

Pompadour Caught on Set Screw of Revolving Shaft.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—While visiting the Calumet Packing works Miss Anna Vetter's pompadour became caught on a set screw of a revolving shaft and she was scalped.

Her hair became uncoiled and wound around the shaft, and the girl was lifted up before the machinery could be stopped.

Her scalp was torn from her skull, and with it her left ear. A deep gash was also cut in her face. She may not survive the injuries.

REV. BRANDT RESIGNS

It Is Likely He Will Engage in Evangelistic Work.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—Rev. Dr. John L. Brandt announced to his congregation at the First Christian church Sunday morning that he is contemplating closing his work there with the end of the present year. Just what plans he will take up he did not state, but said that these would be announced by himself in about two weeks. It is understood that Dr. Brandt intends to prepare a ten-volume edition of his sermons, and do other literary work. He has also in view the holding of evangelistic meetings in different parts of the country, besides a possible trip to Europe.

Dr. Brandt has been pastor of the First church for six and a half years, and in that time has added 1,400 members to the church. The First church is situated at 3126 Locust street, in what is fast becoming a down town location, and Dr. Brandt's success in keeping up a large congregation is considered remarkable.

Pettis County Was First.

A COLOR FOR EACH BILL

THE BANK TELLERS' DESKS MAY LOOK LIKE RIBBON COUNTERS.

A NEW SECRETARY WAS SELECTED

American Bankers' Association Favors Distinctive Shades for Various Denominations—Federal Charters.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—If the secretary of the treasury will grant a request contained in a resolution presented at the American Bankers' association convention the teller's desk of the average national bank will somewnat resemble the ribbon counter of a department store.

The resolution proposes that each denomination of bank notes be made of a certain color;one dollar notes, slate; twos, brown; fives, green; tens, blue; twenties, yellow; fifties, pink, and hundreds and over, white.

The resolution was referred to the incoming executive council.

A feature of Friday's final session was an address by President M. E. Ingalls, of the Merchants' National bank, Cincinnati, on "Our Present and Future Prosperity."

Prior to Mr. Ingalls' address there was a discussion of every day banking questions. Among the resolutions presented, all of which were referred to the executive council, was one from E. R. Mosley, of Kansas, favoring such legislation, both state and federal, as will provide strict supervision of the issue of stock and other securities of public service corporations. He also introduced a resolution suggesting that all interstate corporations be chartered by the federal government.

The convention adjourned after electing the following officers: President, J. D. Powers, Louisville; vice president, George M. Reynolds, Chicago. The secretary and treasurer will be elected by the executive council.

At the meeting of the executive council Friday afternoon, Lewis E. Pierson, of New York, was elected chairman of the council. F. E. Farnsworth, of Michigan, defeated James R. Branch, of New York, for secretary by a vote of 26 to 14 after a warm contest. Mr. Branch has held the position for a dozen years. The office payss a salary of $12,000 annually. A. A. Crane, of Minnesota, will be-re-elected treasurer.

DOCTOR AND WIFE ACCUSED

Poisoning of North Carolina Woman's First Husband Alleged.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—A murder trial of widespread interest begun here yesterday, when Dr. Thomas L. Rowland and his second wife, the widow of Charles R. Strange, a locomotive engineer, are to face the charge of having murdered Mr. Strange by poison so that they might wed.

Effort will be made to prove that Dr. Rowland was a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in real life,andthat the all appearances he led an exemplary existence,,while secretly making a study of deadly poisons and plotting a murder.

He was even arrested on a charge of having poisoned his own child to get some insurance money, but he was let go because the chemists could find no trace of poison in the tests which were made.

In the present case Dr. Rowland is alleged to have used aconitine, a rare and deadly vegetable poison.

Wed by Rev. Parsons.

Mr. Henry J. Holst, a popular tailor employed by Maurice Weisburgh, and Miss Clara E. Thomas, also of this city, were married Monday night by Rev. James Parsons, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bridegroom's brother, Otto A. Holst, 227 South Missouri avenue. The best wishes of a legion of friends are with the happy couple.

LIVE STOCK

EARMARKING ANIMALS.

System Recommended by a Hog Breeder Who Has Tried It.

Here is a system of marking hogs used by a correspondent of the Breeders' Gazette, that is easy to keep in mind. In lower part of right ear, 1, 2, 3, 4. In upper part of right ear one cut means 5; in upper part of left ear one cut means 10; in lower part of left ear one cut tells the number 20 is on the animal; cuts on lower and upper ear left will call 30; lower and upper right ear will be 9, so the animal marked that way with 7 cuts will be numbered 39.

CORN FODDER AS FEED.

It Has a High Value If It Is Properly Cared For.

The value of corn fodder when properly cared for can hardly be overestimated. In my several years of experience in feeding stock I have not found anything that equals it as an all purpose feed. A great deal of complaint has been heard to the effect that it is difficult to persuade stock to eat corn fodder, but I believe that if we could go to the feed lots of the people who make these complaints we could find that the fodder they were giving to their stock was half decayed and scattered here and there through the mud and manure; perhaps there may be a few hogs running through it, trampling it into the mud before the cattle reach it. From observation, continues the writer in Farm Life, I would say that almost three-fourths of the farmers feed their fodder in just this way.

The cost of farm labor has necessitated greater care in the saving of feed and getting it to the stock in such a condition as to obtain the greatest benefits from it, so it is well worth considering this matter.

As to the fodder itself, it is evident that the best can be produced from our earliest corn. It can then be cut before there is any danger of frost, for frost bitten fodder is utterly worthless.

There seems to be a great difference of opinion as to just when corn should be cut for fodder. I prefer it a little green to being overripe. I put it in small stacks to cure, and when well cured, husk the corn and bind the fodder into large bundles, which can be easily handled and stored away to be used as wanted.

ANIMAL MANAGEMENT.

Feed vegetables, apples and soft corn with the grain ration.

Teach the colts to walk fast. The walking gait is the best gait.

Be sure that the pigs have clean, dry beds in their sleeping places.

Clover hay and alfalfa where it can be grown is the best of roughage for ewes.

If pigs are obliged to sleep in damp beds, especially as the cool nights come, they will not thrive.

If it is not already done, separate the fattening pigs into different feeding lots, according to size and age.

Do not keep swine on one pasture until it is eaten bare. Change as soon as eaten down and allow a fresh start.

The dairyman who is careful in the treatment of his cattle will be a competent manager in other respects, and you will not hear him complaining of "bad luck."

Arrange the fodder so that it can be handled economically during the winter. The coarse should be fed with fine to keep up a balance of the ration.

It takes much patience to teach a horse seven or eight years old to do new kinds of work. But let patience have her perfect work; the horse is not so much to blame after all.

Keeping Sheep in Pasture.

In keeping our sheep in pasture, we use woven wire fencing. Our sheep have always been easily controlled, never having learned to be unruly. A woven wire fence with wires close together, with wire 30 inches high and with one barbed wire on top and six inches above top wire, with posts 30 feet apart, makes a good fence. If other stock besides sheep run in the pasture have another barbed wire on top. Never have slack wires. Have the end posts anchored soundly and have the wires drawn tight. Flocks differ greatly in regard to fences. If the farmer never has poor fences he will find his sheep the easiest stock to control on the farm.

AN EDITOR IS ARRESTED

MAN WHO WAS PROMINENT IN FRISCO GRAFT EXPOSURES SPIRITED AWAY.

TAKEN SECRETLY FROM HIS HOME

Habeas Corpus Proceedings May Result in His Being Released and Returned to His Place of Abode.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin and prominently connected with the graft proposition, was arrested in this city last night on warrants issued in Los Angeles and sworn to by Luther Brown, who charges Odle with criminal libel. Older was arrested on the street and taken in a motor car to Redwood City, thirty-five miles south, where a connection was made with a southbound train for Los Angeles, on which he was placed in charge of officers from that city.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 28.—Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, arrived here this morning on Southern Pacific train No . 18. At a session of the superior court held at 2 o'clock this morning, papers were prepared in habeas corpus proceedings, on advice of District Attorney Langdon, of San Francisco. When the train arrived Mr. Older was taken from it by the sheriff and at once conducted to the superior court, where a hearing on the habeas corpus writ is now in progress.

EXPECTED HOLD-UP CAME

Fleeced by Thugs, Wires Home for Money to Continue Visit.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 1.—Held up by two robbers as he stepped out of the Polk street depot, dragged into a dark recess in the wall of the building and robbed of $50, was the fate of Jennings Nix, a farmer living near St. Louis, when he arrived in Chicago early yesterday.

Although Nix had not expected to be greeted so effusively by Chicago, the conduct of the impromptu reception committee of two did not wholly surprise him. He took the demonstration philosophically and wired home for more money.

"I've been reading about these holdups," Nix told the police, "and was sort of prepared for it."

SEVEN HIGHBALLS A DAY

Confessed a Magnate, and Jury Disagrees as to His Sanity.

New York, Oct. 1.—James Bartlett Hammond, the typewriter manufacturer, who acknowledges before a sheriff's jury inquiring into his sanity that he was in the habit of taking sevenhighbals a day, must stay in a sanitarium. The jury which had been out thegreater part of the night disagreed.

The question of how many highballs is the limit must, therefore, go unanswered, unless another jury should be unable to decid in the event of Mr. Hammond's asking for a second jugment as to whether or not he is competent to manage his affairs and his money, which foots up ovr $1,000,000.

WROTE LOVE LETTERS

To a Young Woman and Addressed Her as His Affinity.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 1.—John Vincent, who is believed to have escaped from an asylum, but who has been living here for a short time with his wife and family, was arrested, the result, it is said, of his having annoyed a young woman by writing her love letters and proclaiming her his affinity.

Vincent's wife told the police that her husband had been searching for his affinity in many places since she married him. She declares also that she has evidence that he escaped from an insane hospital in the south and she thinks he has another wife in that section.

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 1.—Believing that his wife, whom, he says, he followed for more than 3,000 miles, is in Joplin, F. M. Nixon, a prominent merchant of Chelsea, I. T., has asked the aid of the police in finding her.

He says that, because of a difference in religious beliefs, his wife left him soon after they were married, and that, with her parents, she has traveled from place to place, always avoiding him.

STOP TRAIN BOOTLEGGING

Railroads Entering Muskogee Are Discharging Offending Trainmen.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 1.—The railroads centering in Muskogee are making an effort to stop trainmen from introducing whisky into the territory. It has been noticed recently that nearly all of the railroads were discharging their yardmen and replacing them with new ones, and it was found that this was done to stop bringing in liquor and making the railroads party to the crime.

Bootleggers manage to find some trainman who will put the liquor aboard a freight train coming into the territory. This is hidden under coal, in the corners of grain cars or in empty cars, and when the train gets into Muskogee the yardmen are told where the liquor is and they take it out of the car under cover of darkness and deliver it to the bootlegger, who pays them well for their work, as he does the trainmen who handle the liquor.

The officers seldom discover whisky brought in in this manner and it has made a thriving business for the men engaged in it. The railroad officials say it causes a great deal of drunkenness among the men, which is against the rules and dangerous, and they are going to put a stop to it one way or another.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 1.—The organization of a company to operate non-union linotype machines to handle work from "open" printing shops is the latest development in the threatened differences between the Typographical Union and the job printing houses here. It is to be capitalized at $25,000.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 28.—George A. Pettibone, one of the men charged with the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, has so far recovered from his recent illness that he was able to appear in court yesterday and listen to an order fixing his trial for October 15.

Both prosecution and defense announced that they would be ready at that time. Pettibone plainly showed the effects of his illness.

New Haven, Ill., Sept. 28.—Children playing with matches in a hay shed on the Trafford farm, four miles west of here started a fire yesterday evening that resulted in the loss of four lives.

Charles and Ethel Ellison and Leonard Sarget set the shed abaze, and when Mrs. Marshall Ellison, mother of the former two children, rushed to rescue them the roof collapsed, and all four were caught under the debris and burned to death.

THE RECENT M. K. & T. COLLISION

Operator Is 24 Years Old Instead of 19—What He Had to Say in Regard to His Connection With the Trouble.

The death of four men following his going to sleep while on duty as night operator at Paris, Mo., one week after being assigned the position, has not altered the determination of Clay D. Brown, 24 years old, to become what he told his friends he would some day—a train dispatcher and then a big railroad man, writes a staff correspondent of the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

While four families are still weeping over freshly-made graves and railroad men from one end to the other of the Hannibal division of the M., K. & T. are talking of how their comrades were hurled into eternity without even time to get off the engine seats, as the result of a blunder, Brown, on his brother's farm, eight miles south of Madison, Mo., is planning to get another position as operator. In fact, he says that he has not been formally "fired." This, M., K. & T. officials say, is quite superfluous.

Letting a train go by while he slept and later taking orders to arrange a meeting point for it, is what the officials charge against Brown and what Brown admits he did.

His watch was twelve hours, from 7 o'clock in the evening until 7 the next morning. He had been on duty more than nine hours when he went to sleep and the wreck occurred in the eleventh hour of his "trick"—the railroad parlance for working hours.

Hoped Luck Would Save Train.

Realizing that he had made a mistake, but trusting, he says, to luck and the alertness of the dispatcher and other operators to avert the crash, he went to his boarding house when relieved of duty and went to sleep.

He was notified by the station agent an hour later that four men had been killed and five others injured in the wreck following his nap, in the dreaded "Pickledish" series of curves two and one-half miles from Moberly.

Brown was not horror-stricken nor hysterical. He talked calmly with the agent for awhile and then he says he turned over and tried to go to sleep again.

"But sleep was gone for me then," asserts Brown, "and I tossed and rolled, wracked by what had happened."

It was not until a friend went to his bed and advised him to arise and dress and go to his home near Madison, fourteen miles away, where he was born and reared, and consult with his relatives, that Brown got up.

He then caught a freight train for Madison, where he received soothing assurances from his friends that the tragedy was one of those occurrences in railroad life that are unavoidable.

He had fears of physical harm when he was ordered to Moberly to appear before the coroner's jury, but when he went before that body he gave his testimony in a straightforward manner and his swollen eyes alone showed the fears he had experienced.

And now, less than a week later, the smile that has made two deep wrinkles on each side of his face, has come back, and he declares that he will make good his promise to friends when he was graduated from a telegraphers' school in St. Louis last June to some day reach the roll top desk goal in railroad work. And his friends believe he will.

Seasoned railroad men, who know the ways of the corporations and their memory, think differently.

I did not realize that, sitting there with my hands over my eyes suffering from headache, I had been asleep when the dispatcher called me, said Brown in his statement. Nor did I realize the flight of time. I told him that the train had not passed. Even ten minutes later, I told him I was sure it had not passed.

When I found the train had got by I prayed that someone would stop it. When I went to my boarding house, I was still hoping that there had not been a wreck, although I have since learned that the trains had met half an hour before I left the station.

It was my first week of night work and I was not accustomed to it. This was the first time, however, that I had ever gone to sleep. I slept from 9 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon the day before, but woke up with a dull headache. I do not know when I went to sleep, but it was after 4 o'clock. The dispatcher asked me if the train had passed at 5:30. This call must have awakened me.

The Missouri eight hour law, by an act of 1907, provides a fine of $1,000 for any railroad company, corporation or person who permits an operator, directing trains by telephone, telegraph or signal, or employe of the block system, to work more than eight hours a day, except where the station in which he is employed is closed at night.

In this case the operator will be permitted to work twelve hours out of the twenty-four, with an hour off for meals.

In case of a washout or other emergency the law permits the employe to work sixteen hours out of twenty-four, where the station is closed at night.

MR. TAFT REACHES JAPAN

SECRETARY OF WAR IS WARMLY GREETED BY THE LITTLE BROWN MEN.

PASSAGE OF STEAMER WAS ROUGH

Passed All Signal Stations Early Without Being Sighted—Reception Committees and Diplomats Aroused by Runners

Yokohama, Sept. 28.—Secretary Taft arrived here early this morning on board the steamer Minnesota from Seattle, September 13, passing all the signal stations without being sighted. The various reception committees and the members of the American embassy who had come here from Tokio to welcome Mr. Taft were aroused by runners, the town was soon enlivened, and the bay was crowded with launches, displaying American flags and other colors.

Secretary and Mrs. Taft and Thomas J. O'Brien, the new American ambassador to Japan, and Mrs. O'Brien, who are early risers, met the visitors from the shore in the main salon of the Minnesota at 7:30 o'clock while the United States cruiser Chattanooga, anchored in the bay, saluted Secretary Taft's flag as secretary of war, which was hoisted at the fore.

The secretary, on landing, was greeted on every side by the Japanese, with whom he is excedingiy popular. Scretary Taft, after a brief consultation with the reception committees and others, accepted the entire program for his entertainment, but declined to participate in any function today or Sunday.

Monday the secretary will be received in audience by the Japanese emperor, which function will be followed by luncheon at the palace. Count Hayashi, the foreign minister, will give a dinner in Secretary Taft's honor Monday evening.

Tuesday the secretary will be entertained at luncheon by the minister of war, Lieutenant General Terauchi Masaki, which will be followed by a reception of the American residents of Yokohama.

Wednesday Mr. Taft will attend a dinner to be given in his honor by the municipality of Tokio and Thursday morning he will leave the Japanese capital for Kobe, where he will embark on board the, Minnesota for Manila.

While in Tokio Wednesday, Mr. Taft will take lunch with the American charge d'affffaires, Percival Dodge.

The Minnesota had a rough, but not unpleasant voyage across the Pacific.

Secretary Taft, during his stay here, will make his headquarters at the Grand hotel. He is expected to make a short trip to Tokio this afternoon, traveling on a special train.

Ambassador O'Brien and Peter Augustus Jay, first secretary of the American embassy at Tokio, and the staff of the embassy left Yokohama 11 o'clock this morning.

FRUITING OF CUCUMBERS.

Why It Is That Often but Little Fruit Sets on the Vines.

Not a few people are puzzled by the behavior of cucumber vines in the gardens and complain that although the vines are blossoming full, little or no fruit sets. A number of inquiries of this nature have already been received at the Colorado Agricultural college experiment station this year.

The reason for this, writes W. Paddock, is as follows: There are two kinds of blossoms upon the cucumber vines, as well as upon a number of other plants of similar nature. The first blossom to set, and by far the most numerous throughout the life of the plant, are what are known as male flowers. These are imperfect in their makeup, for the reason that they lack the pistil, or that part from which the fruit and seed are formed, but it bears an abundance of pollen which is necessary to the development of the pistil of the pistillate flowers.

The other, or pistillate flowers, sometimes called the female blossoms, are produced later in the season and are also imperfect, for the reason that they usually lack stamens, but are provided with a pistil. The pistillate flowers can readily be told, because there is a miniature cucumber at its base, even before the bud has opened.

Now, in order to produce fruit, it is necessary for pollen from the staminate blossoms to be transferred to the pistil of the other class of flowers. When grown in the green house, the work of pollination must be done by hand, but out of doors, there are always insect visitors enough to perform this important work. In fact, this is one of nature's provisions by which cross fertilization of plants is effected. Insects of many and various kinds visit from blossom to blossom, and as they go to the staminate flowers their bodies become dusted with the pollen; then as they chance to visit a pistillate flower, some of the pollen is bound to be left upon the receptive surface of the pistil. This in plants is known as pollination.

The pollen grains have the power of germination much like a grain of corn. The end of the pistil is moist so that the grains soon terminate and the germ tube finds its way down through the pistil to the immature seed which it enters and gives up a portion of its protoplasm. This process is known as fertilization.

As a rule it may be stated that no fruit of any kind can be produced without this process of pollination and fertilization. Fertilization incites the immature seeds into growth, and this, of course, causes the parts which surround them, as in the case of cucumbers, to grow, and the result is what we recognize as the matured fruit, which in this case is not strictly correct.

Certain conditions which are not well understood seem to keep the paint producing staminate blossoms at the expense of early fruit production. But in a general way, we cannot materiallly hasten the formation of pistillate blossoms. We should see to it, therefore, that the plants are kept in a vigorous growing condition by planting them, first of all, in good garden soil, and seeing that they are supplied with an abundance of moisture at all times.

oack which is of wood. Around the bottom I used board strips three inches wide to make a box 6x8 inches square.

Small hooks with screw ends were fastened in the corners on which to hang the sack. A piece of three-inch stuff three feet long was bolted to the back of the hopper with several inch holes in the top.

The hopper was then hung upon a spike driven into a post beside the bin. With this contrivance, writes a correspondent in Prairie Farmer, I can fill sacks as fast as one man can tie them.

Look to the Gutters.

Now that the leaves are falling, don't forget to see that the gutters and leaders of the house or barn are clear. The leaves fall very quietly and sometimes may not be thought of until a heavy rain causes the water to back up under the eaves or pour over the side of the gutters.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our system. The blood in its constant passage through the lungs absorbs the germs, and they destroy the rich, red corpuscles of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to properly nourish the system, and disease gets a foothold. Then the symptoms of Malaria, such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, and perhaps chills and fever show that the trouble is affecting every part of the body. Malaria also affects the liver, producing a chronic state of biliousness, and often a long spell of fever follows when the blood becomes fully contaminated with the poison. Chronic Sores and Ulcers, boils, aches and pains, and skin affections of various kinds often result from this insidious disease if the poison is allowed to accumulate in the blood in sufficient quantities. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. This great remedy goes down into the blood and drives out all germs, microbes and poisons, and permanently cures Malaria, S. S. S. not only cleanses the blood of the cause, but furnishes it with the healthful properties it needs, so that instead of a weak, germ-infected stream, spreading disease throughout the system, it becomes a rich, red fluid, nourishing the body and enabling it to resist disease. S. S. S. is also the greatest of all tonics, and builds up and invigorates the entire system while ridding the blood of the germs of Malaria. Persons who are suffering from Malaria will be pleased with the prompt and pleasant results produced by the use of S. S. S., and can take it with confidence because it is an absolutely safe medicine, being free from harmful minerals of any kind. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Sunday Schools' Work

DR. G. L. SHEPARD, CO. SUPT.—NO. 32.

The September meeting of the Sedalia Sunday School union was held in the Central Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, the 24th inst. It was a good meeting, not largely attended, but we had four fine papers, or rather three papers and one address. There were ten of the fifteen schools composing our union that were represented, and those present were among our most earnest workers. There were many previous and important engagements for the evening which detained many that would otherwise have been present. A men's missionary meeting for the members of the Broadway Presbyterian church, a rally at the First Congregational church, the Harmony Baptist association detained many, but as remarked above, we had a good meeting. There were several present who have not met with us before, and the close attention paid to the papers and the interesting, though brief discussions that followed evinced a deep interest in the important subjects, Regularity and Punctuality and Qualified Teachers, that were considered. We wish that every Sunday school officer and teacher in our union could have been present.

Our next meeting will be held in the East Sedalia Baptist church, probably the third week in October. We have papers promised on the following topics: Consecration, Memorizing Scripture and Good Music. These are topics vital to the interests of every Sunday school, and every Sunday school worker. Let each one plan to be present and gain a new interest and impulse in this great work in which we are engaged.

The Kansas City Association of Congregational Churches met in this city on Thursday and Friday of the past week and was a most interesting meeting. Two sessions Friday morning and afternoon were devoted in part to the Sunday school question. Rev. J. P. O'Brien, superintendent of the teacher training department of the Missouri Sunday School association, was present and made a strong plea for more earnest and intelligent work in this department. Judge Henry L. McCune, judge of the juvenile court of Kansas City, gave an address on "Parental Responsibility" that every parent in Sedalia ought to have heard. Every moment during the meetings was occupied and to good advantage. Such meetings accomplish a great amount of good, but are not appreciated by the masses as they should be. All cannot attend these gatherings, but with the proper effort and a realization of the good to be attained, many more could attend than are usually present.

Last Sunday we spent in Houstonia, visiting the Sunday schools and calling on the officers and teachers in the interest of a township Sunday school convention. There is no resident minister in Houstonia at present and has not been for several months. This condition is deeply to be regretted and we trust will soon be remedied. Every town has great need of persons whose special duty it is to look after the spiritual condition of the community, whose time and thought and whole energy is devoted to the moral and spiritual interests of the people, and a retrograde movement along spiritual lines is almost certain when a preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is not in their midst all the time We succeeded in gathering quite a number of Sunday school workers together Sunday afternoon, and a committee on program was chosen, and we hope to have a Sunday school convention October 13 which will stimulate a renewed interest in this work.

We close our article this week with another grand motto from Mr. Marion Lawrence, and we wish every teacher could realize the value of it:

"The difference between the drudgery and pleasure of teaching lies in the amount of preparation."—G. L. Shepard, President Pettis County Sunday School Association.

TOLD JURY TOO BIG A TALE

Macon County Thief Too Eager to Aid Confederate.

Macon, Mo., Sept. 30.—A touching case of devotion was spread out before a jury in the circuit court Saturday. J. E. Stevens and Will H. Collins, a pair of rough and ready chaps, were in jail for burglarizing Patterson's general merchandise store at Elmer, Macon county. They took all the clothes they could carry and were apprehended with the goods on them.

Collins pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. His pal, Stevens, claimed to be an injured innocent, and that he could prove it by Collins. Then Collins went on the stand and swore that he broke into the store, helped himself to a load of shoes, coats and things, and started up the track with them.

He found Stevens lying by the roadside, and, fearing he would catch cold, put on him from the plunder a pair of pants, shoes and a nice warm coat, without Stevens waking up to learn who his good angel was. Collins never batted an eyelash while telling his remarkable tale, and neither did the jury when they heard it.

They found Stevens guilty, but complimented Collins for his romantic vision. He had done what he could.

A CONDUCTOR ARRESTED

PILFERING UNION PACIFIC TRAINS BETWEEN OMAHA AND WEST.

MERCHANDISE THROWN OFF CARS

Conductor Claims It Was Done by Roadsters, Who Intimidated Crew With Revolvers—Company Now Investigating

Train after train of the Union Pacific Railroad company has been looted within the last two months between Omaha and Grand Island, and special officers of the railroad company and Omaha police are on the lookout for the thieves, says the Omaha Bee.

This fact became known Tuesday evening, when Officer Shepherd, of the police department, arrested Conductor G. C. Miller, 1312 South Sixth street, whose train was pilfered Sunday evening at Millard, and several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise thrown off. The conductor is held at police headquarters for investigation.

On the way to the police station, after his arrest at Sixth and Pierce streets, Conductor Miller said to a reporter for the Bee:

"My train was frisked at Millard, but I could not do anything about it. The fellows who break open the merchandise cars and throw off goods always carry weapons and a conductor who interferes with their business gets shot full of holes. I knew they were on the train and throwing off the stuff, but all I could do was to let them alone until we arrived at Millard, when I sealed up the cars. The men were gone.

Officials of the Union Pacific declare a number of trains have been pilfered between Omaha and Grand Island, and police officers believe members of the train crews are guilty. Conductor Miller was arrested in a saloon Tuesday evening, but was not spending money freely and had but 65 cents on his person when taken to the station.

"They suspect me of stealing from the cars in my train," he said. "I have worked for the company for years and held a good position. Of course my arrest today will cause my discharge, but I would not work for the company now for any amount of money. They will have a hard time to prove that the crew of my train ever looted a car."

Holding members of a train crew as suspicious characters recalled to railroad men the daring stunts of the conductors and brakemen on the old mountain roads, when it was no unusual thing to steal several sacks of ore valued at $1,000 each. At one time the Denver and Rio Grande lost a car load of gold ore from the Little Johnson mine at Leadville, and it was learned that the train crew had skillfully changed cards from a car of low grade ore to the car of high grade and shipped it to Mexico. The result of the work resulted in private fortunes for the conductor and head brakeman. The conductor who switched the cars on the Denver and Rio Grande now lives on a big ranch in Nebraska.

A later issue of the Omaha Bee says that the way bills carried by Conductor Miller were found in the car that was looted, and a portion of the stolen goods were found in his home.

John Sweeney has just completed on his farm, one and one-fourth miles north of Clifton City, an up-to-date six room home and is now occupying it.

The home was built by Mr. S. C. Harper, a skilled mechanic, and nothing but the best material was used in the construction.

Besides the six rooms, there are two porches, front and side, and the inside finishing is for convenience and comfort.

for one of his most marked traits was the intense human quality of his wide and deep sympathy. Finally, he not merely preached, he was, that most valuable of all citizens in a democracy like ours, a man who in the highest place served as an unconscious example to his people of the virtues that build and conserve alike our public life, and the foundation of all public life, the intimate life of the home.

Lesson for Human Sympathy.

Many lessons are taught us by his career, but none more valuable than the lesson of broad human sympathy for and among all of our citizens of all classes and creeds. No other president has ever more deserved to have his life work characterized in Lincoln's words as being carried on "with malice toward none, with charity toward all." As a boy he worked hard with his hands; he entered the Army as a private soldier; he knew poverty; he earned his own livelihood; and by his own exertions he finally rose to the position of a man of moderate means.

Not merely was he in personal touch with farmer and town dweller, with capitalist and wageworker, but he felt an intimate understanding with each; and his consistent effort was to try to judge all by the same standard and to treat all with the same justice. Arrogance toward the weak, and envious hatred of those well off, were equally abhorrent to his just and gentle soul.

Surely this attitude of his should be the attitude of all our people today. It would be a cruel disaster to this country to permit ourselves to adopt an attitude of hatred and envy toward success worthily won, toward wealth honestly acquired. Let us in this respect profit by the example of the republics of this western hemisphere to the south of us. Some of these republics have prospered greatly; but there are certain ones that have lagged far behind, that still continue in a condition of material poverty, of social and political unrest and confusion.

Honest Industry Protected.

Without exception the republics of the former class are those in which honest industry has been assured of reward and protection; those where a cordial welcome has been extended to the kind of enterprise which benefits the whole country, while incidentally, as is right and proper, giving substantial rewards to those who manifest it. On the other hand, the poor and backward republics in which the lot o fthe average citizen is least desirable, and the lot of the laboring man worst of all, are precisely those republics in which industry has been killed because wealth exposed its owner to spoilation.

To these communities foreign capital now rarely comes, because it has been found that as soon as capital is employed so as to give substantial remuneration to those supplying it, it excites ignorant envy and hostility, which result in such oppressive action, within or without the law, as sooner or later to work a virtual confiscation. Every manifestation of feeling of this kind in our civilization should be crushed at the outset by the weight of a sensible public opinion.

From the standpoint of our material prosperity there is only one other thing as important as the discouragement of a spirit of envy and hostility toward honest business men, toward honest men of means; this is the discouragement of dishonest business men, the war upon the chicanery and wrongdoing which are peculiarly repuisive, peculiarly obnoxious, when exhibited by men who have no excuse of want, of poverty, of ignorance for their crimes.

Exists in Safety Under the Law.

Men of means, and above all men of great wealth, can exist in safety under the peaceful protection of the state, only in orderly societies, where liberty manifests itself through and under the law. It is these men who, more than others, should, in the interests of the class to which they belong, in the interests of their children and their children's children, seek in every way, but especially in the conduct of their lives, to insist upon and to build up respect for the law.

It may not be true from the standpoint of some particular individual of this class, but in the long run it is preeminently true from the standpoint of the class as a whole, no less than of the country as a whole, that it is a veritable calamity to achieve a temporary triumph by violation or evasion of the law; and we are friends of the man of property, we show ourselves the staunchest upholders of the rights of property when we set our faces like flint against those offenders who do wrong in order to acquire great wealth or who use this wealth as a help to wrongdoing.

Wrongdoing is confined to no class. Good and evil are to be found among both rich and poor, and in drawing the line among our fellolws we must draw it on the conduct and not on worldly possessions. In the abstract most of us will admit this. In the concrete we can act upon such doctrine only if we really have knowledge of and sympathy with one another.

Wage Earner and Capitalist.

If both the wage-worker and the capitalist are able to enter each into the other's life, to meet him so as to get into genuine sympathy with him, most of the misunderstanding between them will disappear and its place will be taken by a judgment broader, juster, more kindly, and more generous; for each will find in the other the same essential human attributes that exist in himself.

It was President McKinley's peculiar glory that in actual practice he realized this as is given to but few men to realize it; that his broad and deep sympathies made him feel a genuine sense of oneness with all his fellow-Americans, whatever their station or work in life, so that to his soul they were all joined with him in a great brotherly democracy of the spirit. It is not given to many of us in our lives actually to realize this attitude to the extent that he did; but we can at least have it before us as the goal of our endeavor, and by so doing we shall pay honor better than in any other way to the memory of the dead president whose services in life we this day commemorate.

Description of the Mausaleum.

The mausaleum stands on an eminence to which has been given the name of Monument Hill, about two miles due west of the McKinley home in the city of Canton. It is not an ornate affair, but its simplicity is relieved by sufficient artistic embellishment to make it an object of beauty, as well as one of massive proportions and breadth of design.

Four states have contributed a share of the material which has been used in the building of the monument. The granite used in the approaches and the mausaleum proper is from the quarries of Milford, Mass. Tennessee has furnished the gray marble for the interior of the tomb, while the sarcophagi which now holds the bronze caskets in which lie the bodies of the president and Mrs. McKinley, are of dark green granite from Windsor, Vermont. The base upon which the sarcophagi rests is black granite from Berlin, Wis.

From the first step of the approach to the monument, to the actual top of the structure, is 163 feet 6 inches, the mausaleum itself being 98 feet 6 inches high above the summit of the mound. The top of the dome has an oculus 15 feet in diameter, through which comes a softened light, which adds greatly to the beauty of the interior.

The mausaleum is 78 feet 9 inches in diameter. In the center of the floor beneath the dome stands the sarcophagi containing the bodies of the president and Mrs. McKinley, and in the niches on the north side of the dome are caskets containing those of the two daughters, Ida and Mary, who died in infancy.

Huge Doric columns are placed around the interior in such a manner as to appear half buried in the sides of the building. The floor is of mosaic marble, having been brought from many states for the purpose.

Half way down from the top of the first granite steps that lead up to the main entrance on the south side of the mausaleum stands a heroic bronze figure of President McKinley, representing him in the attitude usually assumed when speaking—his left hand holding a roll of manuscript and the right hand in the trousers pocket. Behind the figure is a bronze chair, encircled with a wreath, and draped with the flag of the United States. The bronze figure, which is nine feet high, stands on a pedestal eighteen feet from the base to the feet of the figure.

Twenty-six acres of ground were purchased by the monument commission, and the utmost art of the landscape gardener has been lavished upon the grounds. Natural streams flow past the base of the mound, and trees and flower beds have been arranged with an eye to the greatest artistic beauty.

From the entrance to the grounds on the south to the foot of the mound is 590 feet, and along this distance a double driveway 175 feet in width has been constructed. Between the two sides of the driveway is a lagoon which is constantly filled with fresh water. Long rows of trees flank the lagoon and the driveways.

The mausaleum and grounds have been built and arranged at a cost of $500,000, and it is the intention of the commission to raise an endowment fund of $150,000, which will preclude the charging of any fee for admission.

At the next meeting of the mausaleum trustees custodians will be chosen, and it is the intention to ask for the indefinite detail of soldiers of the regular army to guard the tomb.

The architect was H. Van Buren Magonigle, of New York, and the designer of the bronze figure standing before the mausaleum was Charles Henry Niehaus.

"Endless Chain" for Ball.

GRAND DUKE IS DEAD

The Ruler Was Unconscious Many Hours Before the End.

Constance, Grand Duchy of Baden, Sept. 28.—The rand Duke Frederick of Baden died today. He was unconscious for many hours before his death.

Throughout the night the cabinet ministers and the court officials and chaplains had awaited in an apartment adjoining the death chamber for the end to come. At the grand duke's bedside when he expired were the Grand Duchess, Princess Louise of Prussia, the hereditary Grand Duke Frederick of Baden, Prince Max of Baden, brother of the grand duke, the crown princess of Sweden and others.

The Grand Duke of Baden was 81 years old. He succeeded as regent of the grand duchy in 1852, owing to the incapacity, through ill health, of his older brother. In 1856 he assumed the full title of grandduke, his brother dying two years later.

Louise, the grand duchess of Baden, is the only daughter of the late emperor William I. She was married to the grand duke when she was still under 18, and they have two children, the hereditary prince, and the Princess Victoria, who is the wife of the crown prince of Sweden.

The grand duke is rector of the University of Heidelburg. He was a field marshal in the Franco-Prussian war.

ROOSEVELT BEAT THE BISHOP

But Wild Horses Couldn't Drag the Score From the Players.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The first round of the international tennis match between President Roosevelt and the Lord Bishop of London Arthur Foley Winnington Ingram, was played on the White House court this afternoon, but the result is officially shrouded in mystery.

Unofficially, however, it may be stated that the president, although he is not "a Dougherty," as the London friends of the bishop declare he must be to win, came out of the match the victor.

A MOST BRUTAL CRIME

IT MUST HAVE BEEN A MURDER

Cuts on the Hands of the Victim Is Evidence That It Could Not Have Been a Case of Suicide.

Iola, Kan., Sept. 28.—Miss May Sipp, the beautiful daughter of John N. Sipp, a wealthy man who lives with his family in the little town of Moran, ten miles east of here in this county, was found dead with her throat cut, in the back yard of the family home last night. There appears to be no reasonable explanation of the cause of the deed.

The townspeople are divided in their theories regarding the case. Some assert that it is a case of murder, while others say it could as well be suicide.

Had No Love Affairs.

Miss Sipp was an unusually pretty young woman. She had admirers, but none who called upon her so constantly that it could be called a love affair. She was 25 years old and in excellent health. Because she had not so far as anyone knew, ever been engaged, was regarded as a rather peculiar girl, when her wealth and her beauty were taken into consideration.

At dinner last night the young woman chatted with her father and mother and appeared to be in the best of spirits. Later the father went down to the post office for the mail and the mother busied herself about the house. The daughter stepped out in the back yard. It was about 7:15 o'clock. She had not, according to her mother, been gone from her side two minutes when she heard a scream of "Mother! Mother!"

Dead When Mother Reached Her.

The mother rushed into the yard and found her daughter lying in a pool of blood. The daughter apparently was dead when the mother reached her side. The screams of the mother brought two neighbors, Harlan Taylor, a banker, and George Merrill a merchant, to the scene. No trace of any one who could have murdered the girl was found. Officers were notified and a search of the premises begun.

At first nothing was found, but later in the night, about ten feet from where the body lay, was found, a razor which bore the name of Montgomery, Ward & Co. The razor was closely examined, and here the mystery deepens. There was no trace of blood upon the handle or blade. This was a great surprise to the coroner, who had arrived a short time before from Iola, and the theorists began to speculate upon the possibility of the murderer, if it were a murder, having had two razors.

The coroner says if the cuts were small ones they would not necessarily leave traces upon the blade, but where the entire throat was cut, severing all the veins, it would be probable that stains would remain upon the blade or the handle.

Hands Cut, Clothes Torn.

The murder theory is given its greatest weight, however, from the fact that the clothes of the young woman had been torn and she had been cut upon the hands, as if a struggle had ensued. It is improbable that the clothes would have been disarranged or her hands cut if it had been a case of suicide.

The coroner did not arrive from Iola until 10 o'clock last night. The body lay in the yard in the meantime, guarded by friends of the family. With the coroner came the cunty attorney. Bloodhoundss were at once ordered and reached here at 4 o'clock this morning. Unfortunately, there has been so many persons about the yard that the owner of the dogs doubted any success from their efforts. When the dogs were released they followed a trail into the house. This was not regarded as throwing any light upon the subject.

Miss May Sipp was the only child who was living at home. She had two married sisters, but no brothers. The family lived in a large frame house of some twelve rooms, the finest house in the town. Mr. Sipp moved to Moran from his farm, some three miles from here, about two years ago. He has much property in this county.

BORAH GAINS A POINT

DECISION OF THE PRESIDING JUDGE

Says Evidence Introduced Is Immaterial, as It Does Not Connect the Defendant With the Crime.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 28.—A severe blow was given the government in the trial of Senator Borah yesterday afternoon just before adjournment. For two hours the special assistant attorney general, Mr. Rush, had been introducing evidence on which he hoped to connect Borah with the alleged conspiracy. Following their practice of objecting to nothing, the attorneys for the defense permitted all of the evidence to go to the jury until the hour for adjournment arrived. Mr. Hawley then offered an objection to the introduction of one of the documents. Judge Whitson promptly sustained the objection, saying:

"The evidence appears to me immaterial, as there has been nothing introduced which in any way connects the defendant with the conspiracy."

This statement from the court came after the government had presented its strongest evidence against Senator Borah.

For the first time since the opening of the trial the name of Borah was mentioned by a witness yesterday. This was in a letter written by William Sweet, who furnished the money for the timber operations and who entered into a contract with Governor Steunenberg to obtain timber lands in the Boise basin, to Harry S. Worthman, Sweet's attorney, early in the transaction. Worthman testified that he went to Borah as requested and Borah said he would have to see Steunenberg about the matter. He was shown a letter which he was asked if he turned over to Borah. He said he had not and that the letter simply showed the authority of the witness to act. He saw Borah a number of times, urging him to settle the matter up. He testified that he knew of no contract drawn up in Borah's office. H. R. Richards, a Boise attorney, identified a number of letters written by Sweet to him in relation to the transactions with Steunenberg.

In these it was shown that Richards acted as attorney for Sweet, but the letters contained no mention of Borah. A. B. Campbell, a mine owned of Spokane, was the star witness. He testified that he became acquainted with Steunenberg during the Coeur d'Alene troubles of 1899. In the latter part of 1901, he said, Steunenberg came to him and tried to interest him in the lumber business, telling him that timber lands in the Boise basin could be procured.

SEDALIA MAN IS KILLED

THOS. C. VARNER IN A TUNNEL A SHORT DISTANCE FROM JEFFERSON CITY.

WAS IDENTIFIED BY PAPERS FOUND

Had a Ticket to Osage City and a Small Sum of Money on His Person—An Inquest Was Held Saturday Morning.

The body of a man was found beside the Missouri Pacific tracks about 200 feet from the west end of the tunnel four miles east of Jefferson City Friday night, says Saturday's Jefferson City Tribune.

The body was discovered by the engineer of No. 8, which left here at 7 o'clock. He reported the matter to the agent of the company at Osage, who wired here.

Deputy Constable W. W. Gillam, with Special Agent Walter Kemp, of the Missouri Pacific, Robert Morrow, Tom Canty and Mr. Wyman, went down on a handcar about 11 o'clock and found the body beside the track.

From papers found on the body the man was Thos. C. Varner, a section man from Sedalia.

The body was lying with the head in the ground and the right side of the skull fractured.

It appeared that he had either fallen or was thrown from a fast train. There was a ticket from Jefferson City to Osage City in the pant's pocket, and the supposition is that the man had left here on No. 2 Missouri Pacific train, which went east shortly after 3 o'clock, and that he either fell or jumped from the train at that place.

He is believed to have been intoxicated, as a man of his description was seen at the station shortly before the fast train arrived and he stated that he was going to Osage City and had purchased a ticket for that place.

He had some money in his pocket and appeared to have been a laborer, and the papers found on him indicated that he had been employed on a section at Sedalia or out of Sedalia.

The body was brought up at midnight on the handcar and was taken to the undertaking rooms of L. M. Walther, where the inquest will be held at 10 o'clock today, Saturday.

Deputy Constable Gillam telephoned to Coroner Amos at Lohman and he directed him to bring the remains to Jefferson City, and stated that he would be here at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to hold the inquest.

A telephone message to the Democrat-Sentinel from Jefferson City last night conveyed the news that Varner was identified by a card in his pocket issued by the Continental Casualty Insurance company, of Chicago, which requested that in case of death to notify the general offices of that company. The card bore the address of Sedalia, Mo., but all efforts of the Jefferson City authorities to locate the dead man's relatives here had been unsuccessful last night.

Coroner O. B. Amos, of Lohman, Cole county, conducted an inquest over the body of Varner Saturday afternoon. The verdict was death either from a sharp instrument or from a fall from a train.

The result of the investigation is not at all satisfactory to Coroner Amos and the other authorities of Cole county, who say the evidence points very strongly to foul play. The hole in Varner's head is responsible for the murder theory. The coroner contends that a fall from a train and the position of the body when found could not have produced the wound in Varner's head. The body was found lying on soft dirt with nothing near which could have penetrated the man's skull, and with all these different views of the case in hand a more rigid investigation will be made.

Varner is known to have had a ticket to carry him from Jefferson City to Osage, and this fact adds strength to the murder theory. The question that is puzzling the authorities is how Varner could possibly fall from a passenger train when he was supposed to be riding inside.

Varner is believed to be a relative of the Varners that formerly lived in Northeast Sedalia.

The body was taken direct to the Sedalia Undertaking company's parlors, and later was conveyed to the family residence, Sixth street and Missouri avenue.

The Rev. Fr. Neiberg, the pastor, will conduct the burial service at Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock Monday morning, with requiem mass, and the interment will be in the Catholic cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers: Frank McGinley, W. J. Riley, E. C. McGurren, E. J. Donnelly, James P. Quian and E. B. Burrowes.

Mr. James Curran, a brother, and Miss Helen Curran, a niece, both of Ottumwa, Ia., are here to attend the funeral.

Friday morning Mr. Curran remarked to his devoted wife that he felt queerly, and it was his belief that a change of some kind was at hand. BANNER STATE FAIR SUNDAY

Religious Services Held for Throng at Springfield, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 30.—With thousands of visitors thronging the grounds and the greater number of paid admissions for Sunday in the history of the big show, yesterday proved the banner Sunday of the Illinois state fair. The gate receipts were more than $200 above those of Sunday last year, and the total number of visitors is estimated at 5,000.

Religious services conducted in the Woman's building were the feature of the day. A lecture on "The Mission of America" was delivered by the Rev. E. B. Rogers, pastor of the Central Baptist church, of this city.

Except for these services there was little about the grounds to remind the visitor that the day was Sunday. The work of completing the various exhibits was continued.

GIRL CHANGED HER MIND

Judge Rickman Did Not Get Chance to Marry Couple.

"Say, judge, can you come out here and marry us?" shouted a coarse voice over the telephone, ringing in Judge J. B. Rickman's ear Saturday morning.

"We want to get married and leave town on the 12 20 o'clock freight and would like to get married first," the same voice continued.

"Yes, I can perform the ceremony," the judge responded, and he hung up the receiver and began to make preparations to go and fulfill the mission.

A little later the telephone bell rang and the same voice was there.

"Judge, you need'nt mind about coming here to marry us,'" said the man, "the lady has changed her mind," and without a moment's time to wait for a reply the man hung up the receiver.

SIX HEARTS MADE GLAD

Three Illinois Brothers and Trio of English Girls.

Union Hill, Ill., Sept. 28.—A triple wedding with three brothers as bridegrooms and three young English women as brides took place at the First Baptist church.

The happy pairs were William Johnson and Miss Amy Mugg, Herbert Johnson and Miss Annie Day and Reuben Johnson and Miss Lillian Burdette. The words which made six hearts beat as three were pronounced by Rev. J. Franklin Shindell, pastor of the church.

The wedding had been the talk of neighboring towns for several days and the church was crowded with friends of the Johnson brothers, neighbors and curiosity seekers.

Who Is the Clerk?

We notice a certain Sedalia postoffice clerk has become a frequent visitor in our little town and invariably strolls upon West Main street before returning to Sedalia, says the Smithton Sunbeam. We also notice that Harry Stober does not have a worried look any more when our Sedalia friend goes out west. We wonder why.

COLLIER IS ACQUITTED

Man Charged With Murder Is Exonerated in Court.

Plattsburg, Mo., Sept. 28.—David Collier, who has been on trial here since Wednesday, charged with murder, resulting from the killing of one Allison, at Grayson, last May, was acquitted by a jury in the circuit court at 1:15 yesterday afternoon. The jurors had had the case under consideration since 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Self defense was pleaded by Collier and the testimony bore out that position. It was stated that Allison, who was said to have been drinking after a trip to Platte City, entered Wingate's store, where Collier and several other men were congregated.

A quarrel ensued over a statement made about Collier's little son. After some words Collier started to leave the place, when Allison was said to have attacked him. Collier stabbed his assailant with a pocket knife. The single thrust inflicted proved fatal, Allison dying within a few minutes.

This Fellow Was a Fraud.

WILL NOT HAVE DELMAS

HARRY K. THAW HAS EMPLOYED LITTLETON AS CHIEF COUNSEL.

ANXIOUSLY AWAITING TRIAL NOW

Thinks He Will Have No Trouble in Convincing a Jury That He Was Insane When He Killed Stanford White.

New York, Sept. 28.—Harry Kendall Thaw in an interview yesterday said when asked concerning counsel for his new trial:

"I have chosen Mr. Littleton to be my chief counsel. This is no reflection on Mr. Delmas. He resigned, you know. I understand that Mr Delmas is returning to New York, but this has no connection whatever with my case. Mr. Delmas has established offices in this city.

"I have received notices from reporters, asking if there had not been or was not pending disagreement between myself and Mr. Hartridge over the expenditure of money at the last trial. I want to say, once for all, that there is nothing in this talk. Whatever misunderstandings may have occurred are past and gone.

"I wish the new trial was at hand. It will not take as long this time.

"The entire slate of the last trial has been wiped clean in preparation for the new trial to come. We will put the evidence in more concise form. I do not fear the outcome of the trial when it does take place. I am sure everyone of the twelve men will be convinced that I was crazed beyond reason when—when that thing happened."

"Would you object to be tried outside of New York city? There is talk, you know, that it may not be possible to secure a jury here."

"Of course, that's a matter for the judgment of my counsel," said Thaw. "As far as I am concerned personally, it would suit me, anywhere that I could have twelve intelligent American citizens to listen to my story."
